MUSIC HATH CHARMS.
A Chicago Gang of Criminals Broken
Up by a Song.
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)
CHICAGO, April 30.—A song rendered by the choir in the church on Chicago avenue and Day street a few weeks ago was responsible for the capture of four members of the desperate fire gang
by the police last night. As the church was filled with the song "Where Is My Wandering Boy Tonight?" Fred Drenson, one of the members of the gang, howled his head in sorrow. That song marked a turning point in the young man's life, and today he is a paroled prisoner, and it is said, will be given his freedom for assisting in breaking up one of the most dangerous gangs of criminals that ever operated in this city. Property worth many thousands of dollars has been stolen, and the police have twenty-eight charges against the members of the gang.
Since January Detective Hamilton has been collecting evidence against the gang, and with the confession of Drenson, which covered sixty-three correspondent at Salonica says that it is reported that 4000 Greek troops have landed at Keramoti and blown up the railway tunnel near Okdjablar, and that a strong band of insurgents has appeared at Nevra, with the intention of cutting off communication with Sor-vitch. Troops have been hastily sent to Monastir, as an attack there is feared.

THE NEW MINISTRY.
Some Changes Made in the Personnel as First Announced.
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)
ATHENS, April 30.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The cabinet has been definitely formed as follows:
President of the Council of Ministers
and Minister of Marine, M. RALLI.
Minister of Interior, THEOTAKIS.
Minister of Foreign Affairs, M.
SKOULODIS.
Minister of Public Instruction, M.
AUTAKIAS.
Minister of Justice, M. TRIAUTA-FILACA.
Minister of Finance, M. SIMOPOU-LOS.
Minister of War, COL. TSOMADOS.
The new ministry will be sworn in immediately. On the whole, the new ministry is well received by the newspapers. The Asy observed that the cabinet has a formidable task, and hopes it will do its duty "without heeding the inconsiderate clamors of the street."
The Asy expresses the opinion that King George ought to invoke the mediation of Europe in person.
The more advanced papers term the ministry the "royal defense cabinet."
A COALITION CABINET.
ATHENS, April 30.—During the last twenty-four hours the Turks have been almost forgotten. Nothing has been thought of but the cabinet crisis. M.
Delyannis has countersigned the decree dismissing his ministry. The new cabinet is composed of members of M.
Ralli's party and of the followers of the late M. Tricoupi, the latter holding the most important portfolios—War, Foreign Affairs, Finance and the Interior.
RALLI RALLYING
ATHENS, April 30.—The correspondent of the Associated Press had an interview with M. Ralli today. M. Ralli said: "The new cabinet has not yet had time to frame a programme. The reports from the front lack clearness and I decided that it would be wise to send two cabinet ministers to Pharsala in order to encourage the army, which is fighting valiantly, and to investigate the condition of affairs."
M. Ralli added that he was not aware of any act or proposal on the part of the powers looking to intervention. He said Gen. Smolenski had telegraphed him that he repelled a desperate attack by the Turks, whose loss was very great, and that the morale of the Greek troops was unimpaired.

ROYALTY HISSED.
LONDON, April 30.—The Standard's correspondent at Athens says: "The royal carriage was then summoned, and the palace drove to the palace at the top of the speed of her horses.
The royal arms have been stripped from the carriages in order that the occupants may drive about unrecognized, and thus avoid similar experiences."
"As another indication of popular feeling I may point out that many of the tradesmen who were wont to display the royal escutcheons in front of their shops have removed them."
"While a priest was offering prayers for King George and the royal family
in one of the prominent churches
today (Friday) he was interrupted by protests from the congregation. The priest, in order to protect the members of the Greek royal family in case of extreme danger."

GERMANY AND ROYALTY.
VIENNA, April 30.—The Tagblatt says the warship Kaiser Auguste of the German fleet has been dispatched to Crete in order to protect the members of the Greek royal family in case of extreme danger.
WHAT GREECE WILL DO.
ATHENS, April 30.—The correspondent of the Associated Press had an interview today with the Minister of Foreign Affairs, M. Skoulodis. The Minister said: "If Greek honor can be retrieved by continuing the struggle,
the government will prosecute the campaign with unabated energy. If the condition of the army, the other hand, would render further fighting inadvisable, the cabinet will undoubtedly refuse to bring fresh disasters upon the country by persisting in a foolhardy war. The new cabinet, like that of M. Delyannis, is prepared to accept of any rectification of the frontier in accordance with the terms of the treaty of Berlin and to recall Col. Vas-sos from Crete the moment the powers have granted autonomy after the departure of the Turks."

DECLARATION OF POLICY.
ATHENS, April 30.—The Legislative Assembly will probably meet tomorrow to hear a declaration of policy from the new cabinet. Meanwhile, the new Minister of War is actively supervising the reorganization of the army. Dispatching forces to Thessaly and Epirus.
M. Delyannis has made a statement to the effect that he did not favor a war with Turkey, but was afraid to oppose the national will. He says he was obliged to espouse a war policy in order to save the dynasty. Before retiring from power he was anxious to apply for intervention, but King George objected.

WHAT TURKEY WANTS.
NEW YORK, May 1.—A special to the World from Washington says:
"The terms of peace which Turkey has offered Greece have reached the Washington legation. They are as follows: The restoration of the boundary fixed by the treaty of 1831, which gave to Turkey all of Thessaly, including its extensive seacoast; the evacuation by Greece of Preveza and other points in the province of Epirus; the withdrawal of the Greek troops from Crete and the acceptance of the plan of autonomy offered the island by the Porte and the payment of a war indemnities large enough to cover the expense of the mobilizing of the Turkish troops."

TEMPER OF THE GREEKS.
Not Ready for Regicide—Tears for the Thessalian Routs.
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)
NEW YORK, April 30.—A copyrighted dispatch to the Journal dated Athens says:
"The popular feeling that the people have been better by to-day in the now-famous stampede from Matt is for the time quieted. An incident showing the temper of the Greek people happened during the demonstration given up by Gennadius, who made a speech in which he called the King
a traitor and demanded that the royal family be driven from the country.
Then, at the head of a numerous rabble,
he marched to the palace, which was entirely guarded. Alone he entered, on violence bent, and demanded to see the King.
"His Majesty does not receive today," said the doorkeeper.
"I am sorry," replied Gennadius.
Coming out he informed the rabble that His Majesty did not receive him. He entered a carriage and drove away in triumph followed by a crowd.
"Greeks burst into tears when the Thessalian rout is mentioned. The Crown Prince's successor, Gen. Smolenski, was elected in the following way
at Pharsala: He had one competitor, Gen. Mavromichalis, his personal enemy, who, pistol in hand, kept his division from stampeding, shooting down five of his men. Mavromichalis was about to be elected when he rose and said: 'Gentlemen, my comrade, Gen.
Smolenski, is better versed in military science than I, and I retire in his favor.'
The people are anxious to try issues
again under these two patriotic leaders, and another great battle is probable."
"Ex-Premier Delyannis recently said in an interview, making an attack upon the King: 'I was never in favor of war. I permitted it to save the King's crown.'"

SHOPKEEPERS ABANDON BUSINESS AND HOTEL CALLOYS QUIT WORK.
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)
NEW YORK, April 30.—A copyrighted dispatch to the Journal dated Athens says:
"I was with the Greek army in its campaign toward Janina, the principal town of Epirus, the southwestern province of Turkey, when I heard the first rumor of hard fighting in Thessaly."
"The journey from Arta overland to Thessaly required a longer time than it does to go by way of Athens, and so I have been fortunate enough to arrive in the capital in time to witness another popular outbreak of the Athenians. Crowds are in the streets, in the squares before the churches, and in every place of public congregation. Practically every man in Athens is arming to go and fight the Turks. Every train into the city is loaded with other troops. Yesterday crowds broke into the shops and took the practicable weapons. It was unanimous throughout all classes.
Today Greece is armed to fight for her life.
Today I went to a shop and found no one there but a boy seated on a box.
"Where is the proprietor?" said I.
"He has gone to the war," said the boy.
"This man had taken no time to arrange his affairs in careful detail. He might have gone out to buy a cigar in another shop. The shelves were stripped and the counters were bare."
"The proprietor has piled the lid
of a great box in which are the things
I cannot sell you anything," the boy said hastily. "I am going to the front."
"In my hotel here, which is usually very English and impressive, they are shy of waiters, porters and call-boys.
These men have gone to the war.
There is a battalion now preparing that uses the same tablecloths, and
the waiters are of cavalry already gone.
In fact, this is not a king's war, nor a parliament's war, but a people's war."
"It is absurd to say that the Greeks undertook this contest because they believed they would take Constantinople in a fortnight. No nation ever had a truer sense of the odds. The concert of Europe had calmly informed them of possible consequences; there had been a general movement to impress Greece with her danger, but the Greeks said: 'Well, we must fight anyhow.'"
"There will be a great deal happen
before these people of the mountains
care to pause."

PANIC AT VOLO.
ROME, April 30.—Dispatches from Volo, by way of Athens, say that a terrible panic prevails at Volo and that the place falls into the hands of the Turks, the situation of the Greek army will be desperate.
DOESN'T WANT MUCH.
PARIS, April 30.—The Temps urges
the new Greek Cabinet to lose no time in recalling Col. Vassos from Crete, and so give Europe what she has been demanding in vain for so long. This,
the Temps adds, is the best way to prepare for the intervention of Europe,
and not give Turkey time to form dangerous ideas as to the rearrangement of frontiers. The Temps also demands an immediate armistice.

WHOLLY IMPRACTICABLE.
LONDON, April 30.—It is semi-officially stated that there is reason to believe that Greece and Turkey in the present position of affairs is regarded as wholly impracticable, both Greece and Turkey having resolved to continue the war. The post-war are thus obliged to stand aside until one of the combatants is finally defeated.
NOTICE TO CANEVARO.
PARIS, April 30.—La Patrie publishes a dispatch from Rome saying Admiral Caneparo, Italian commander in Crete, has been ordered to consider Col. Vassos, who commands the Greek army of occupation in Crete, as a belligerent, and to no longer consider the attacks on Turkish troops there.
CORRECT DEPARTMENT.
ST. PETERSBURG, April 30.—Count
Muraviev, Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Count Goluchowski, Austrian Minister of Foreign Affairs, have dispatched identical notes to Russian and Austrian representatives of Belgrade, Serbia, Sofia, Bulgaria, Bucharest, Roumania and Cetinje, Montenegro.

Tariff Schedules Which They Will Work For.

Senator Jones of Nevada Agrees to Stand by Them.

Finishing Touches Put on the Bill
by Allison and Aldrich—Some Surprises in Store—More Tax on Beer and Less on Spirits.

(BY THE TIMES SPECIAL WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, April 30.—[Special Dispatch.] Senators Perkins and White today drew up and submitted to the Finance Committee the schedules for which they will work. These include a 1-cent rate on citrus fruits;
classification of all currants at the same rate as prunes; placing Zante currants in the raisin class; a rate of 5 cents or boric acid, and duties on other borax products just as the Californians have outlined. When these clauses had been phrased as they should appear in a sugar bill, duplicates were made and a copy sent to the committee and to Senator Jones of Nevada. He has agreed to stand by these clauses, and there seems every reason to believe they will be adopted.

Senator White said tonight he had reason to believe that the sugar trust would not fight for the abrogation of the Hawaiian treaty if it was given a composite schedule on sugar, that is, an ad valorem duty on low grades
and specific duty on the higher grades.
He said the Republican members would not give to the Democrats any idea of the rates, but he understood that the same committee had made an average reduction of 10 per cent.
on all rates. The Democrats he said would not oppose the bill factiously,
but demanded full consideration of it in committee, at least. The bill
The date for the presentation of the tariff bill is now set for May 10.
There will be trouble in securing enough votes to pass the sugar schedule containing an ad valorem clause
no matter what the rate is, and it is believed that the bill will be put
at least a month in committee.
In case an attempt is made to make any report to the committee, the Republicans will have exhibited speeches ready to engage the attention of the Senate for a month.

THE FINISHING TOUCHES.
WASHINGTON, April 30.—[By Associated Press.] Senators Allison and Aldrich spent the day in placing the finishing touches on the Tariff Bill.
They were the only members of the sub-committee in the city. The bill has been completed in all essential particulars, and now only remains to be shaped for presentation to the Senate.
The members of the sub-committee decline to reveal the changes agreed upon by the sub-committee and the Senate.
Indeed, Senators generally are as ignorant of the amendments agreed upon as the general public, and it is safe to say that the report, when made,
will contain many surprises.
The Democrats say the length of time taken in committee will depend entirely upon the character of the amendments. It is understood to be one of the purposes of the Democratic members of the Finance Committee to offer several amendments which force a vote upon them so as to put the Republicans on record, as the count
upon having the cooperation of Senator Jones of Nevada on some of their propositions. Senator Jones's position appears to be that he will demand
a majority of the committee, and that if he does not secure them from the Republicans, he will join the Democrats. Recently evidence has been obtained of the Democratic members having a willingness to assist him.
The California fruit people are continuing their efforts to secure an advance in the fruit rates and they are hopeful of success. Messrs. Daniel and Snow constitute a committee now here in this interest. They have exhibited specimens of such of their oranges to the committee as they do not ship to the eastern markets, because they are shut out of them by European competition. They contend that with a small advance in rates California can supply the entire country with citrus fruits.

MORE TAX ON BEER.
WASHINGTON, April 30.—It is very probable that the Secretary of the Treasury will soon recommend to Congress a reduction in the internal revenue tax on distilled spirits and an increase in the tax on beer. The action will be taken on the ground that the present tax of $1.10 per gallon is above the revenue-producing point.
Some days ago Senator Culbott introduced a resolution, which was adopted,
calling on the Secretary for his view
on the subject, and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue has now in preparation a report to the Secretary covering the facts involved. This report will show that since the increased tax on spirits from 90 cents to $1.10 per gallon, illicit distilling has increased to a point almost, if not quite, beyond control. This is the case in Kentucky and in the mountainous districts of the South. Recently evidence has been obtained of its extension in the North.
Not long ago a large quantity of illicit whisky was captured in Atlanta and investigation disclosed the fact that it was manufactured in Nebraska. That it is rapidly increasing and extending in many directions, the revenue officers say it is beyond doubt, and that only the $50,000 appropriated by Congress for the detection and suppression of illicit distilling is almost insufficient to stem the tide. Just what reduction will be recommended is not known, but it is contended that the inducement
for violating the law would be reduced and at the same time the revenue would not suffer. No definite conclusions have been reached as to what the tax on beer shall be, but it is altogether probable that an increase will be advised.

BLITHE WILL CASE.

Occupies the Attention of the Su- preme Court Five Minutes.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The Cali- fornia Blithe will case occupied the at- tention of the Supreme Court five min- utes today. F. D. McKenny, a Wash- ington attorney, made a motion in be- half of Mrs. Hinckley, natural daugh- ter of the millionaire, who was awarded his estate by the California courts, for leave to docket the case and file a re- cord, to enable the attorneys for Mrs. Hinckley to make a motion on May 10 for a dismissal of the case. McKenny stated an appeal had been taken by the other claimants merely for delay, with the hope of inducing Mrs. Hinckley to compromise for the sake of securing possession of the property. Chief Justice Fuller told McKenny to appear May 10 with the documents, and the court would consider the re- quest.

He Has Notified the Queen Regent That the Largest Band of In- surgents—Numbers Only Two Hundred—Gomez Said to Have But Eighty Men.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, April 30.—Minister
de Lome has received a dispatch from Madrid saying the Queen's action in applying reforms in Cuba was based on advice from Gen. Wever, that the largest remaining bands of insurgents are 200 under Banderos and 90 under Gomez.
THE CORTES TO MEET.
WASHINGTON, April 30.—Minister
Dupuy de Lome has received an official dispatch from Madrid announcing that the Spanish Cortes has been called to meet on May 20, after an extended recess. The present party in power is said to be very strong, and the meeting is not expected to develop cabinet changes.

THE ARMY SCANDAL.
Court-martial Officers Notified to Await Further Orders.
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)
ATLANTA, (Ga.), April 30.—The three-court-martial officers constituting the court-martial before which Col. Henry Romeyn is now on trial at Ft. Mc-Pherson, have received orders from the War Department to the effect that upon the conclusion of the present trial, they shall remain in Atlanta to await further instructions. The order is regarded as very significant, from the fact that Romeyn has preferred charges against Lieut. M. J. O'Brien of the Sixth Infantry, but the former is generally believed to be the case sending the charges against O'Brien are said to be very serious and it is expected that there will be some very lively proceedings which will result in a sensation of the court-martial is as yet ignorant of what the orders to the court will be, but it is generally believed that they will remain here
to try Lieut. O'Brien.
The trial of Romeyn drags slowly along. It may conclude Saturday afternoon.

OPPOSED TO TOLLS.
Tough Kentuckians Riding About
and Demolishing Toll Gates.
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)
LANCASTER, Ky., April 30.—One hundred men rode into the city and burned the toll-gate-keeper's home on Buckeye street. They called for the keeper saying they would murder him, but he had taken his family to a neighbor's. Notices were then warning
the gate-keeper that he would be murdered if toll was still collected, and the gate put up again.
Indiana toll-gate raiders have begun depredations in the neighborhood of Fort Wayne. Last week three gates near that city were torn down, the keepers driven from their homes, and two houses burned. The toll was also applied to another house in Bath county, Ky. The keeper moved his family to Ohio today to escape the vengeance of the raiders.

HIS PRIVATE SECRETARY.

CHICAGO, April 30.—Miss Sarah Louise Ervin, private secretary to President Spaulding of the defunct Globe Savings Bank, has been named by the Senatorial Investigating Committee today that Spaulding had given her about $75,000, with the understanding that she would secure a divorce and marry her.

quake; loss heavy; many injured."

Standard Oil Stock.
NEW YORK, April 30.—A sale of Standard Oil stock was made on the curb today at 300, which price is the highest ever paid for the shares of the company, and represents a rise of something like forty points within the last few months. Standard Oil stock, which now rules at a higher figure than any of the other so-called trust shares,
yields in regular dividends 12 per cent.
annually, but within the last fifteen months upward of 40 per cent. has been paid, through the medium of extra dividends, and this fact, together with rumors of the effect that at the forthcoming meeting of the directors, an extra dividend of at least 10 per cent.
will be declared, in addition to the usual
3 per cent. for the quarter, accounts for the sharp rise in the stock.

An Electrical Ear Drum.
ST. LOUIS, April 30.—Civil Engineer William L. Springer has patented an electrical ear drum which he claims will make the deaf hear. The drum consists of an electrode contact plate, and an elastic receiver, designed on the principle of the telephone, but much more delicate. It is attached to a dry battery which may be carried in the pocket.

Ten-Inning Game at Washington. No Ball at Cincinnati—Races at Ingleside—Yesterday's Card at Fresno Track.

NEW YORK, April 30.—George Lavigne of Saginaw, Mich., is still the lightweight champion of the world.

Tonight, in a ten-round athletic club, before 200 people, he met and defeated Eddie Connelly of St. Johns, N. B. Both men were weighed at this afternoon below the stipulated weight of 133 pounds, and they were matched to box twenty-five rounds to decide the world's lightweight title.

The battle was fast and furious, but at the end of the eleventh round, Lavigne had Connelly fought to a standstill, after sending him down five times in succession with right swings on the head and jaw. Connelly, who was the host of friends by his gameness in getting to his feet in a couple of seconds each time, but those efforts were unavailing, and he staggered into his corner at the end of the eleventh round, hopelessly beaten. Joe Chynski, who was Connelly's principal handler, saw the fight was over, so far as the Canadian was concerned, and would not permit Connelly to subject himself to any more punishment.

The closing round was a wonderful exhibition of manly courage on the part of Connelly. Lavigne opened with the left on the wind, and swung a terrific left on the mouth. He followed that up with a stiff right on the head, and Connelly swung his left on the head. Lavigne hooked his right on the jaw, and Connelly went down. Five times in succession Lavigne sent Connelly down with rights on the head, and Connelly got gamely to his feet every time. At the end of the second round, the bell rang when he came up the last time, and he staggered to his corner in a very weak condition. When time was called for the beginning of the twelfth round, Connelly was in such a weak condition that his seconds would not allow him to continue, and the referee awarded the fight to Lavigne. Lavigne's seconds were Sam Fitzpatrick, Ben Murphy, Jim Kelly, and Tom Tracy. While Connelly was handled by Joe Chynski, Jim Kelly, Dick Moore and Bob Smith.

THE FOUR-MILE RACE

Condition and Probable Chances of the Starters Today.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—The chief attraction at Ingleside tomorrow afternoon will be the four-mile race. Eight horses are entered to start, but it is doubtful whether more than six will go over the long route. This is the most satisfactory race of the season, and it has been a source of great difficulty to secure more than three starters.

The favorite, pulled up lame after the two-mile race, and is not in a fit condition to start, but his stable companion, Can't Dance, will probably be the favorite. He likes the long route, although mud is his great foe. Schiller's last race was a good one, and although a big weight, he has a pull on the fore of class.

Lobengula, if he starts, will be close up at the finish. He ran four miles at Oakland and made a creditable showing. He has a whole lot of weight off today. Little Bob looks to be a bit out of class, but he worked three miles and if the strong work does not militate against him, he may get inside the money. Met is a trial to the long route, but her recent form has been very bad. The same argument can be advanced against her. A. AND P. SALE.

Changes Which Will Follow Purchase of the Santa Fe.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) ALBUQUERQUE (N. M.), April 30.—The foreclosure sale of the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad will take place at Gallup, this county, on May 3, 1897. O. N. Marston, the special master, will officiate as auctioneer. The road will then pass into the hands of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, after which the following changes will be officially announced:

A. G. Wells will be general superintendent of everything west of Albuquerque, including the California Southern; W. G. Nevin will be general manager of the Atlantic and Pacific; C. R. Perry will be division superintendent from Albuquerque to Seligman, Ariz.; the division being extended fifty miles; John Denali will have charge from Seligman to Bernardino, Ariz.; the division being extended thirty miles; the latter city to Los Angeles, including San Diego; W. H. Kearney will be division superintendent; J. Byrne will be general passenger and ticket agent of both lines west of Albuquerque; his headquarters being at Los Angeles.

The auditing department of the Atlantic and Pacific in this city will be consolidated with the California Southern, and removed to Los Angeles. E. Walsh will be the general auditor.

The Santa Fe Company will begin work on the contemplated additions to their shops here, which will add at least five hundred more men to the payroll.

CHILE'S CABINET.

Runners at Valparaiso That It May Fall Down.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) NEW YORK, April 30.—A special to the Herald from Valparaiso, Chile, says:

"There is still talk of a Cabinet crisis here. El Porvenir, the leading organ, has declared that the resignation of the Minister of Justice, owing to his differences with President Errazuriz, is inevitable, and will probably be followed by the downfall of the present Ministry. The Liberal newspapers are grounded in the belief that a crisis is imminent."

"The feeling of uneasiness and distrust in Argentina, owing to the outbreak of friendliness between Brazil and Chile, has been greatly increased by the reassurances to Argentina as to the real cause of the demonstration is what has caused the uneasiness in that republic."

FLASHES FROM THE WIRES.

The Princess of Wales has written to the Lord Mayor of London, pointing out that in the jubilee of Queen Victoria in June, the Princess of Wales has been given a special preparation. She is in very light, but she will be handicapped by having a boy in the saddle, pulled up lame after the two-mile race, and is not in a fit condition to start, but his stable companion, Can't Dance, will probably be the favorite. PREY OF THE FLOOD

FIVE MORE BODIES TAKEN FROM THE DEBRIS.

Scores of Organized Searchers at Work Amid the Mountain of Wreckage at Guthrie.

THE TREACHEROUS CIMARRON.

ITS QUICKSANDS OR CURRENTS HAVE HID MANY DEAD.

Partial Sighting Along the River Banks—The Swollen Streams Subsidizing and Exposing Awaiting Destruction.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) KANSAS CITY (Mo.), April 30.—A special to the Times from Guthrie, Okla., says five more bodies were recovered today from the debris left by Wednesday's cataclysm in West Guthrie. The bodies of George Owens and Mrs. Charles Ruffin were found on the west bank of the river. The bodies of Henry Simmons and Mrs. Watson and child were found under a pile of hay near the Cimarron. Mrs. Watson had her child closely clutching to her breast, in which position both met death.

Scores of organized searching parties are at work, but progress is slow since tons of debris must be dug over in the search. It is believed that the rushing waters of the Cimarron have carried many more bodies to the sea. The Cimarron is two miles wide north of the city, and when the flood came the waters of the Cottonwood joined it. The Cimarron's bottom contains quicksand, and it is one of the most treacherous streams in the country. It has carried into the Arkansas in the east end of Pawnee, and it is likely that several bodies, if not buried in the sand, have been carried to the Gulf of Mexico. The Cimarron River is literally jammed with wreckage by the bodies of dead animals. The farmers are fishing out and carrying off the wreckage by carloads. The rear portion of the Heim brewing outfit, containing $10,000 worth of machinery, came into the Cottonwood River this morning. Over fifteen hundred homeless people are being housed in the city.

Division Superintendent Dolan of the Santa Fe increased his force of men to thirty, and has ordered that number of men to work on the tracks south of Guthrie. He states that their road will be open to the south by tomorrow morning. Over four miles of Santa Fe roadbed was washed out. The Santa Fe will lose $25,000. The loss to the city, and the careful estimate reached $200,000. Several costly bridges were destroyed. Twelve persons are yet missing.

RIVERS CRAWLING DOWN.

GUTHRIE (Okla.), April 30.—The Cottonwood and Cimarron rivers are now within their banks. Searching parties have gone out in boats and rafts to coast both banks for sixty miles from Guthrie. There was a search for dead bodies. Pillagers looted the wreckage last night, entering many of the principal houses in the absence of their owners. Guards were placed everywhere possible. Threats to lynch thieves were made, but none were caught.

No additional bodies have been recovered since last evening in the vicinity of Guthrie. A man was reported floating down the Cimarron last night, but a party has gone out to intercept if possible. The destitute are being cared for in the city.

FINDING BODIES.

WICHITA (Kan.), April 30.—A Guthrie special to the Beacon says the body of George Owen, who went down while saving others, has been found where it sank. The body was recovered by Fannin Ruffin, colored, a small friend buried in the debris in her own doorway. Several bodies are reported missing, and it was thought that hundreds of people are at the mountain of wreckage at the railway bridge, hunting for bodies.

ST. LOUIS, April 30.—The river continues to rise. The noon stage was 30.2 feet. One-half a foot more will cause water to flow over the top of the levee at the city. The levee is so high that boats cannot pass beneath the bridge.

HIGHEST WATER NOT REACHED.

NEW ORLEANS, April 30.—The river is still rising. The water level is still far off. Engineers predict that twenty to twenty-five feet will be reached. The railroad forces and the army are working on the levees.

Call Gains Three.

TALLAHASSEE (Fla.), April 30.—The ballot for United States Senator today resulted: Call, 36; Chipley, 30; Raney, 15; Hocker, 5; Burford, 3; McKay, 1.

The Labor Struggle.

(Bulletin.) Able-bodied and willing workers are being sought by employers in the city. The authorities are being called to account for contributing the runs of $25 to the city. The work of this city to the interior, where it was assumed that work might be found for them. There does not seem to be any fault to be found with the laborer. The fact that they are willing to work is demonstrated by the steadiness with which several hundred have worked on the Balboa boulevard for the small wages of $1 a day. Our men of means and affairs might do well to give this labor problem a moment's thought. We have a State two-thirds as large as France, with a population of 1,500,000 against 28,000,000. A considerable part of these 1,500,000 are either idle or regularly employed. At the same time we import tons of eat, drink and sleep. The $1,200,000,000 of gold we have taken from the soil has been exchanged for goods made in the East. The European countries are not doing as well as we are. The raw material of labor and the raw material of land and its products into that harmonious relation that produces results.

The Only Right Theory.

(San Francisco Bulletin.) The Chicago meeting at which it was decided to ostracize socially and in all other ways men who betray the interests of the United Kingdom. In the halls of legislation is on the right track. Public sentiment is more efficacious in preserving probity than is the fear of prison bars. The spirit which wins at the ballot box is successful in what makes public thieves. In the older communities where a thief is called a thief and treated as such, whether convicted or not, legislators are not heard to say that they "don't go to the Legislature for their health."

FRESNO, April 30.—A sensation was sprung in the trial of Prof. Sanders, charged with forgery and suspected of the murder of William Wootton, this morning by Judge Carroll Cook of San Francisco, who presided in Judge Webb's stead. The judge had instructed the jury and dismissed it. Turning to the attorneys, the judge said:

"I'm satisfied that one of the witnesses in this case committed perjury and contempt. I refer to Dr. C. B. McIntosh, the expert on penmanship. I therefore order him into the custody of the Sheriff with bonds of $5000. McIntosh was an expert in handwriting, and also as a minister of the gospel and school teacher.

The jury, after an hour's deliberation, returned a verdict of guilty. This was Sanders' fourth trial. The first trial the jury disagreed on the question of expert testimony. On the second trial the jury convicted him after being out only forty minutes. The verdict in this case was reversed by the Supreme Court. On the third trial the jury disagreed, principally on a conflict of testimony and because of a failure to prove that Wootton was dead. The verdict this morning implies that Sanders is guilty of the murder of Wootton. Sanders was sentenced to fourteen years' imprisonment in San Quentin.

The case has been one of the most notable that ever occurred in California. About three years ago, Prof. Sanders and his wife, who lived on neighboring farms, Wootton, an old bachelor, lived all alone. Sanders seemed to have made up his mind that he would get possession of Wootton's farm, and set deliberately to work to achieve his purpose.

He cultivated Wootton's acquaintance, and the two men became very friendly. Soon after, Wootton disappeared, and has never been heard of. When last seen he was in a buggy with Sanders, not far from their farms, or rather, his body was, for those who saw the two men agreed subsequently that Wootton was probably dead when they saw him, although the body was erect. When Sanders was afterward asked what had become of Wootton he told an improbable story of him getting out of the buggy and going northward. Whatever his fate may have been, his body has never been found, and although Sanders is suspected of murdering him, the crime has never been brought close enough to him to warrant a trial.

But shortly after Wootton's disappearance, Sanders showed a deed giving him title to Wootton's property. It was not made out directly from one to the other, but other deeds were produced, showing that Wootton had deeded the land to a man named Knausch, that Knausch had deeded it to the third party, and that the third party had deeded it to Sanders.

All efforts to find Knausch and the other man failed. Sanders was accused of forging the deeds, and each of his former trials have been on this charge. The present trial has lasted about three weeks. Judge Webb, who has presided at the other trials, refused to hear the case, and exchanged courts with Judge Carroll Cook of San Francisco.

An interesting feature of the trial was the production in the courtroom of $20,000 in gold. Sanders had testified that Knausch paid Wootton that amount of money, and described the jaunty manner in which it was carried up the hill to Wootton's house. When the amount of gold mentioned was brought into court, it was found to weigh over seventy-three pounds, too great a weight to be handled as described.

OVERLAND TO THE YUKON.

Perilous Fifteen-hundred-mile Trip of Three Miners.

SEATTLE (Wash.), April 30.—(Special Dispatch.) Three men are about to make the trip to the Yukon gold fields overland from Ellensburg, Wash. John Compton is the leader, and his companions are two brothers, James and Charles Walker. It is fifteen hundred miles from Ellensburg to Forty Mile Creek, but Compton expects to cover the distance in two months.

The men are now at Ellensburg, and have bought twelve horses at $6 each and about $450 worth of supplies. They will keep between the mountain ranges, going up the Fraser and other streams on this side and down the McKenzie beyond Summit. They will need no dogs, but will be able to go clear through with their horses and arrive in good season. They are enthusiastic over their chance, and declare it should become the only one into the Upper Yukon.

THE PRESIDENT'S UNCLE.

He Wants to be Postmaster of the Bay City.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—President McKinley's uncle, Benjamin McKinley, who is a well-known and respected citizen of San Francisco and now superintendent of Station F post-office, is after the postmastership here, with very flattering prospects of stepping into Mr. McCoppin's shoes.

Within a week his friends have secured 6000 signatures to the petitions they are quietly circulating. Mr. McKinley has kept his ambition quiet until a few days ago, when the circulation of the petitions was begun, and that operation has been kept as quiet as it was convenient to do.

Mr. McKinley's friends say he is seeking the office, not because he is a relative of the President, but because he has been long in the postal service, and has had this ambition for three or four years. Under the conditions a popular petition is regarded as a wise accompaniment to his application, and it will doubtless be a formidable one. This petition will be something for others who reckon on political pulls alone to take head of. Uncle Benjamin F. McKinley is 64 years of age, and has been a Californian since 1859.

SHE WILL PAINT.

Mrs. John Martin Threatens to

Chum the Houses in Bloomers.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

OAKLAND, April 30.—Mrs. John Martin, the contestant of the will of Henry Martin, in which she played a sensational part, proposes to startle the residents in the neighborhood of Twenty-first and Bush streets by donning bloomers and painting two cottages of which she is the owner.

This determination is the result of a quarrel with the painters she employed a week ago to do the work. Already she has painted the interior of one of the cottages, and only stopped work to attend the hearing of the Fair will contest. When she found it necessary to repair and paint her cottages she employed several painters and carpenters. The work was not let by contract, for she believed it could be done cheaper by day's work, especially as she proposed to oversee the job herself. So when the painters were ready to go to work Mrs. Martin was there, prepared to stay until the job was completed.

Oakland painters have a union, and one of the most rigid rules of the association is that no union painter shall work more than eight hours a day. This rule proved a thorn in the side of the industrious Mrs. Martin. She could not stand it to see the sun high in the sky and the painters getting ready to go home, calling the time they had put in a day's work. Besides, they had not worked hard nor steadily during the day, according to Mrs. Martin's way of thinking, and she was not a whit backward about telling them so. Further than that, she told them their services were no longer required, and that she would finish the job herself.

CONFIRMED IN THEIR POSSESSION.

Action for Million Dollar's Worth of Oakland Property Ended.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

OAKLAND, April 30.—After fifteen years of desultory litigation the owners of the property bounded by William Linden and Twentieth streets and Telegraph avenue at last feel secure in their title, for the suit of the late H. P. Irving to dispossess them has been decided in their favor. Judge John Ellisworth has passed upon the objection of the numerous defendants that there had never been a return on the original summons and dismissed the suit.

H. P. Irving, at one time a leading member of the bar of the State, bases his claim to the land in question on an old deed from the Perias. The property was not all built upon in 1882, when he filed his suit in the Superior Court, but much of it was covered with improvements and its value was enormous.

The case was still pending when Irving died, but he left a will by which he left off by Walter Matthews, who was named as the executor of the estate. Different features of the case reached the court from time to time, but the main action was not pressed. Recently the defendants attacked the suit on legal ground. They discovered that the heirs never had a return on the original summonses, and that, with the failure of the acting plaintiff to press the case, formed the basis of the decision of Judge Ellisworth in dismissing the action today.

The land in dispute embraces some of the best residence and business property in the city, and is worth, with improvements, over $1,000,000.

LEFFINGWELL'S ARMY.

Report by Way of Woodland of a

Bald at Davisville.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—A special from Woodland today says that Leffingwell's army of unemployed has seized a train at Davisville, Cal., and is in a dangerous mood, making threats of arson and pillage. The Sheriff and a large posse have gone to suppress the disturbance. Many vagabonds and thieves are among masquerading as unemployed.

ALL QUIET.

DAVISVILLE, April 30.—The industrial army remnant here is quiet and orderly. Food is being supplied by the citizens. The unemployed will be carried away free by rail in batches.

An attempt to capture a freight was futile. No disturbance of any kind has been made nor is anticipated.

REPORTED AS DISBANDED.

SACRAMENTO, April 30.—The fee this evening publishes special information from Yolo county to the effect that the industrial army recently shipped out of San Francisco, and which was induced a few days ago to leave the city of Sacramento, has gone to pieces.

Leffingwell, the leader, deserted the army yesterday afternoon and went to his home in San Francisco. Being a determined leader, and almost on the verge of starvation, the men remaining decided to disband and strike out for themselves. Many of them have come back to Sacramento, and are begging food from house to house, but as there is no organization they are not feared.

THAT SALARY BILL.

San Francisco Police and Firemen

Entitled to Increased Pay.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—Judge Sewall this afternoon rendered his decision in the suit instituted by Max Popper to restrain Auditor Broderick from authorizing the payment of the increased salary demands of the officials of the police and fire departments.

The raise of salaries was provided for by a late act of the Legislature, but to test the matter Popper applied for an injunction, as stated, against the paying of the additional sums, holding that the Legislature had exceeded its powers in passing the bill.

A temporary restraining order was issued, and Judge Sewall then took the whole matter under advisement until this afternoon. In this decision he sustains Broderick's demurrer to Popper's complaint, dissolves the temporary injunction and dismisses the suit, holding that there is nothing unconstitutional about the salary bill and that the Legislature had a right to pass it.

PURE-FOOD CONGRESS.

Large Attendance from San Francisco and Other Cities.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—The California Pure-food Congress held its first session today, with a large attendance of delegates from civic organizations, and from interior towns of the State. J. W. Kerr, president of the Manufacturers' and Producers' Association, called the convention to order, and introduced as president of the congress Julian Sonntag. Speeches were made by Sonntag and Mayor Phelan, after which the committees on Credentials and Organization got to work.

WALDTEUFEL STATUES.

Judge Morrow Occupied with a Case of Fraudulent Entry.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—United States District Judge Morrow was occupied with the trial of J. A. Waldteufel, who is charged with having made a fraudulent entry at the Custom-house with the intention of evading the payment of certain duties. Waldteufel is one of the proprietors of a well-known book and art store on Market street.

Last February, it is charged he caused to be exported four statues which were allowed free entry upon the representation that they were for use in a Catholic church at Banning, Lower California. They were later found in Waldteufel's store.

At the trial today, Father P. F. Floria Hahn, who is in charge of the Banning church, was the principal witness. He testified that he had received two statues such as he had ordered. The other two he had not ordered, nor had he received them. It is quite probable that a verdict will be reached tomorrow.

MORALS IN EDUCATION.

Subject of the Papers at the Wo-

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—At the Woman's Congress today the programme concerned "Morals in Education." Papers were read as follows: "Miss Sarah M. Severance, 'The Ethical in Education';" Prof. Wood of Stanford, "Personal Hygiene;" Rev. C. W. Wendte, "Education and Morality;" Dr. People Grow, "Better as They Know More;" Prof. A. G. Newcomer, "Books and Morals;" Miss Ray Frank, "The Main Strength of Character;" C. H. Rieber, "The Place of Punishment in Moral Education;" Rev. C. L. Miel, "Ethical Teaching in the Public Schools;" Miss Eliza D. Keith, "Morals in Education;" President Jordan, "The Joys of Sanity."

AN INDIAN BRAWL.

One Buck Fatally Struck and a

Squaw Badly Cut.

GRASS VALLEY, April 30.—Indians who were camping in a wooded park were engaged in a drunken brawl last night, and, during the melee, one of the men was fatally cut to death, and a squaw quite badly cut. The Indian did not die instantly, but lingered between life and death until this morning.

Seeing that the wounds would prove fatal, the murderer and others left the dying man and squaw, saying they would get a doctor and carry them to their escape, and the officers in pursuit have not yet succeeded in capturing them.

Coming by Boat.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—The passengers that sailed on the steamer Santa Rosa are:

Embarked a Lawyer's Fee.

STOCKTON, April 30.—J. H. Kleupfer of Alameda, the nephew of murderer C. F. Kleupfer, who hung himself in the County Jail a short time ago, was arraigned today on a charge of embezzlement preferred by Attorney Swinnerton. The attorney alleges that the defendant converted to his own use the money which his uncle gave him to pay the lawyer. The preliminary examination was set for May 14, and Kleupfer was allowed to go on $2000 bail.

Fleicher Goes to Germany.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—J. A. Fleicher, secretary of the State Board of Trade, left this city today for Hamburg, Germany, where he will represent California at the exposition. He will set up the California exhibit, make out the preliminary list, and start the cooking booth, where California dried fruits will be prepared and given away. At the end of two months Robert Hector of Newcastle will relieve Fleicher.

Nevada Threatens Sacramento.

NEVADA, April 30.—Resolutions were adopted by the Board of Trade last night against the measure taken by the Supervisors of Sacramento county in prosecuting miners at You Bet for ground-staking. This threat is in-ferred that if the action is not withdrawn, Nevada City business men will sever their friendly relations with wholesale firms at Sacramento.

Chinese Murderer Hanged.

SPOKANE (Wash.), April 30.—Gin Pon was hanged today for the murder of Lee Tong, one of the victims of the riot in the history of the Northwest. Gin having literally hacked his victim to pieces. Prior to the execution he confessed his guilt, professed to be in the Christian religion and was attended by two Christian Chinese ministers.

Goes Where He Belongs.

STOCKTON, April 30.—Jake Rudolph, one of "Blind White Devil" Buckley's ex-leutenants, arrived here last night in care of a deputy sheriff from San Francisco. He was committed to the asylum here by Judge Wallace for insanity. This is his second visit to the insane asylum.

It Was Loaded.

SAN DIEGO, April 30.—At Ensenada, Mex., Monday, Miss Ambrosia Verdugo, aged 22 years, daughter of Don Soledad Verdugo, was killed by her brother, Josef Maria, aged 18 years, who was playing with a shotgun.

Will Audit the Dredger Job.

SACRAMENTO, April 30.—Gov. Budd has approved the following additional members of the auditing board to the Public Works Commissioner, John Markley, State Senator Willis Doty and T. B. Hall, both of Sacramento.

Monadnock and Monterey.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—The United States steamship Monadnock of the coast defense, arrived in port today in company with the cruiser Monterey. Both vessels have for some time past been stationed at San Diego.

Yaguima's Captain Executed.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—The local inspectors of hulls and boilers today rendered a decision exonerating Capt. Hinkle from all blame for the loss of the steamer Yaguima at Huene on the 11th of this month.

Abbot Kinney's New Job.

SACRAMENTO, April 30.—Gov. Budd has appointed Abbot Kinney of Los Angeles a member of the Yosemite Valley Commission vice H. K. Field, term expired.

Jimbedd at Home.

STOCKTON, April 30.—Gov. Budd came to Stockton today for a rest, and to tend to some private business.

Accident to a Fast Train.

CINCINNATI (O.), An accident occurred to No. 24 the fast train on the Illinois Central from New Orleans to Cincinnati at 2 o'clock this morning near Boaz station, Ky. As the result of a trestle giving way, owing to high water, the sleeper was derailed and fell on its side. No one was seriously injured, though four or five passengers had slight bruises. All of the injuries are trifling.

Keep Well

Easy to say, but how shall I do it?

In the only common sense way—keep your head cool, your feet warm and your blood rich and pure by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Then all your nerves, muscles, tissues and organs will be properly nourished. Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up the system, creates an appetite, tones the stomach and gives strength. It is the people's Spring Medicine, has a larger sale and effects more cures than all others.

A Lemon-grower's Experience.

(P. L. Teeple in Fruitman's Guide.) Dear Sir: You have asked me to give you an idea of the experience and trials of a pioneer lemon-grower in Southern California. This is a question some of my own experience. I purchased twenty-nine acres near San Diego in 1882, and planted them all in lemon trees. At that time the lemon craze was at its full tide. It was the current topic of interest. The Land and Town Company had 2000 acres and in lemons, and land for that purpose was in great demand, high in price, and over 5000 acres were set to lemons in San Diego county that year.

It is safe to say, however, that not half the acreage will ever reach profitable bearing. My land cost $225 per acre in condition to plant. The trees cost there $42 per acre planted, though they are much cheaper now. My water cost $600 an inch, and $60 a year for the privilege of using it, to do which successfully I was obliged to store it as it runs. I therefore built a dam across a small cañon on the side of the mountain beside my ranch, storing over 2,000,000 gallons. This cost me several hundred dollars more, but saved my water when I was not irrigating, and formed a pleasant little oasis where rain fell for nine months of the year. The impression given me that groves would pay in four years is all wrong. It takes at least six. After a ranch is planted, the owner must be patient and plenty of muscle and patience before he can expect to realize a profit. The usual price for cultivated lemons is $20 per acre. It is cultivated at least once a month, irrigated as often during the dry season.

Certain varieties of scale are omnipresent, and if not persistently and carefully watched and destroyed will soon be hard to control. This is the most troublesome and expensive pest. Numerous remedies have been invented for them, but as yet the purple scale resists them all, hence it is the most to be feared.

I believe the time will come when the California lemon will be our principal supply. They are as good as the Sicily, if properly cared for, which is the original defect in them so far. The first lemon in the world is the "Bonnie Bray" hybridized by Maj. Higgins, near San Diego. It is so delicate and thin-skinned it will not stand shipping a distance. It is seedless, almost pulpless, with skin and texture like a kid glove, perfect in form, a prodigious bearer and develops so rapidly that over-irrigating causes them to crack open on the tree.

To live on a Southern California ranch with plenty of means is delightful, but it is quite different to be compelled to work on it.

Waxed Cloth for Budding.

A Florida farmer, writing to the American Agriculturist, says: The best method of waxing cloth, especially for budding citrus trees, is to melt beeswax in a stove kettle, and when hot put in a cheap quality of cotton cloth which has been folded to a convenient size. Two or three yards of cloth may be folded in one piece for waxing. Press the cloth down into the wax. Unfold the cloth while still warm and allow it to cool. Then tear it in strips about eight inches wide. The strips for budding, which are half an inch wide and eight inches long, are torn from the ends of these pieces. Strips waxed in this way will not become hard and are ready for use at any time. They fit closely over the bud and form a covering which is practically waterproof.

The Games

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

A party of Oklahoma home-seekers were in Ventura county this week, when the news came of the great flood that has devastated so much of that god-forsaken territory. It did not take them long after they heard of the disaster to make up their minds to settle in the bean country.

The Southern Pacific's graders are now making the dirt fly at a lively rate in Pomona, so as to get the road to Riverside in operation before the expiration of the short time in which the company's bond would be forfeited to the city of Pomona. The City Trustees' evident purpose to bring action for the collection of the amount of the bond ($10,000) seems to have had the desired effect.

Col. G. G. Green is of the opinion that one electric railway system is enough for Pasadena, and urges the acceptance of the proposition of the Pasadena and Pacific to light the streets of Pasadena free of cost to the city, for an exclusive franchise. The colonel admits that he holds some of the company's bonds, but he is likewise one of the heaviest taxpayers in the Crown City, and he says he looks at the question from the taxpayer's standpoint.

This is May day, and the occasion will be celebrated in Los Angeles by an unusually large number of goings-on. There will be the excursion to Terminal Island for the benefit of the Newsboys' Home, for one thing. The Normal School will have a field day at Agricultural Park this afternoon. This evening the Theosophists will welcome to the city the leader of their cult, Mrs. Annie Besant, with several of her best-known disciples. The Sociologists will confine their May-day demonstration to exercises and a ball this evening.

It appears to be necessary for the City Council or the Mayor to take measures to protect citizens from the gang of hold-ups that infests the outlying precincts and operates under the command of the poundkeeper. These bandit-like levies blacken up everybody who owns live stock, and are enriching themselves by bold violations of law and brazen robbery. The live stock ordinance is supposed to be a law for the protection of citizens, not a letter of marque for a gang of land pirates and horse-thieves.

The Committee of Thirty and the other officials of La Fiesta are up to their ears in work. It is the work of which the people who enjoy the carnival merry-makings never think, the washing of dishes and the putting of the house to rights, which comes after a banquet. The bills are all being audited, the properties stored away and disposed of, and the loose ends neatly gathered up. The great impending question has been, "How are the finances going to come out?" Now day seems to be dawning, and it is believed there will be a comfortable surplus against another year.

A melancholy prospect confronts the teachers of the city. They accepted their positions under the expectation that there would be nine months of school. Now the Board of Education declares that the school funds are growing low, and that it is within the bounds of possibility that there will be only an eight months' session. The teachers get pay only for work actually performed. Even when there is a week's vacation, as during the fiesta, their pay stops short. If work had gone straight ahead through the fiesta week, the grammar school teachers of the city would now be richer by about $20 apiece, or some $8000 in the aggregate. The school directors say this will be made up to them by the schools running on a week longer than they would otherwise have done, but this will make them work a week longer into the summer than otherwise, without any compensating circumstances.

REVOLUTIONARY SONS.

Opening of the Congress at Cleveland.—An Absentee. CLEVELAND, April 30.—The national congress of the Sons of the American Revolution has brought to Cleveland many distinguished men. At the opening of the session an address of welcome was delivered by President Ritchie, and a response by the vice-president, Gen. Edwin S. Barrett of Massachusetts. The secretary, Gen. Franklin Murphy of New York, apologized for the absence of the president, Gen. Horace Porter, who is arranging his departure for his post to his departure as Ambassador to France.

The secretary's report showed the society has 9000 members in thirty-six States, with a society in Hawaii. The absorbing topic at the morning session was the proposed union with the Sons of the Revolution. It is likely the convention will take steps to that end.

A BAD BOY'S RECORD

YOUNG LEWIS PARKER MAKES HAY WHILE THE SUN SHINES.

The Aid of the United States Government Invoked to Extricate Him from His Difficulties.

DECEASED HIS BENEFACTORS.

BROUGHT FROM CENTRAL AMERICA BY THE PHILADELPHIA.

Lively Criminal Career of a Youth Who is on His Way to Serve a Term in the Ione School of Industry.

Deputy Sheriff F. M. Jennings of San Diego arrived in the city yesterday, having in custody a youthful prisoner named Lewis Parker, who is en route for the Ione School of Industry. Though Parker is scarcely fifteen years of age, he has a record which would make many an older criminal ashamed of himself. He is a slender, handsome lad, bright as a flash, and amply able to take care of himself in any company.

Parker's parents are the proprietors of the Parker Hotel at Chatham, a town about twenty-five miles east of Albany, N. Y. They are well-to-do people and are widely and favorably known throughout the section of the State in which they live. On December 21, 1893, young Parker, accompanied by a brother about a year his senior, ran away from home. At Albany they sold two bicycles which their father had given them as birthday presents, and with the proceeds purchased second-class tickets for San Francisco. They remained at the California metropolis a few weeks and then worked their way to Guatemala on board the steamer San Juan. At Guatemala they received $100 from their mother, divided the money between them and parted company, the elder brother returning north. Lewis's movements from that time on are interesting when it is borne in mind that he is now but little past 14 years of age, and that the United States government had to step in several times to extricate him from his difficulties.

Left alone at Guatemala, Lewis soon found employment in a coffee store, where he staid until the proprietor was forced to associate him with the mysterious disappearance of sundry small sums from the money drawer. He had acquired a fair knowledge of the language of the country, and at once secured a position as interpreter for Hooker & Co., a Guatemalan bicycle firm, where he remained over a year. Caught in a crooked transaction, the firm threatened him with arrest, and he left between two days for San Salvador, where he appealed to the American consul for protection against the bicycle firm. The Consul took a great liking to the lad and after adjusting his Guatemalan affairs, found him a place in the employ of a Mr. Ellis, one of the agents of that consulate. This job lasted two months, young Parker being unable to stand prosperity. He next went to the United States, his way to Panama, where he lasted just two weeks and stowed away in the steamer Puno bound for Callao. On the trip he "stole in" with the cook, and hid him and looked after his comfort. From Callao he went to Lima and worked ten months, part of the time for a plumber named Sangster and then for William Newton, an English tradesman. Returning to Callao he boarded an English freight steamer bound for Liverpool and played cabin boy and buffet for the captain for his passage. He deserted, however, at Valparaiso, where United States Consul Dobbs had a world of trouble to save him from prosecution for violation of his contract with the shipmaster.

At Valparaiso young Parker fairly outdid himself. In a short time he had perpetrated innumerable frauds upon the consulate, where he was a great favorite, defrauded a hotel, robbed a tobacco dealer named Knickerbocker, and wrought the whole community up to a high state of indignation. Serious trouble threatened him from every quarter and this youth in his early teens was ordered to leave the country or be shot. The United States man-of-war Philadelphia was in the harbor preparing to sail for San Diego, and Consul Dobbs begged her commander to take Parker out of the country. That official flatly refused to have anything to do with the boy, and Dobbs made the wires hot between Valparaiso and Washington. He was finally successful, and the commander of the Philadelphia received orders to take young Parker aboard and drop him at the first United States port.

The ship sailed on January 5, and arrived in San Diego Harbor February 1. During the voyage the bad boy made himself so popular with the marines that they collected a purse of $175 and handed it to him when he went ashore at San Diego. He was in trouble almost before he got fairly up town. He stole a watch and a valuable clock from a Chinese and narrowly escaped the consequences through a legal technicality. He broke into a bicycle store, carried away a lot of tools and tricked the authorities into dismissing the case. Then he met Mrs. Matilda Rose, cashier in the Mechanics' restaurant. Though Matilda was old enough to be the lad's mother, he says she fell in love with him and followed him wherever he went. She possessed a gold watch, upon the case of which she proposed to have their initials engraved. She sent him into a jeweler's with it, and of course, he stole it. Accompanied by a fellow-trick much older than himself he left San Diego on the night of April 8. Two days later the pair was captured at the town of Encinitas, and taken back to the county seat. For several days the authorities searched high and low for the stolen watch. At last one of them found it in a tight little pocket in the waistband of Parker's trousers. When this discovery was made he confessed his guilt.

The young scapgrace is not at all perturbed by the predicament in which he finds himself. He stated yesterday that he intended to try the Ione institution for a short time, and then move on East where things were more to his taste.

Crops and Markets.

Complaints continue to come from many of the grain-growing sections of Southern California in regard to the injurious effects of the dry winds that have prevailed for several days. There has been a general recourse to irrigation wherever practicable, for such crops as need it. Owing to these dry winds the hay crop will be very short in places. The outlook for deciduous fruits is good. The damage done by frost in the southern part of the State was slight. There is a heavy bloom on the orange trees, and the outlook is for a large crop the coming season.

From the northern part of the State come reports of a remarkably heavy prune crop. It is believed that the coming crop will be the largest that has ever been gathered. Growers are now beginning to discuss the best methods of disposing of their crop to an advantage.

The market for dried fruit has not yet advanced so decidedly as was expected by some growers early in the season. Eastern buyers continue to display much caution in making purchases. A general improvement in the condition of business in the East would at once have a stimulating effect on the dried-fruit business.

Widening the Field.

It is encouraging to note that the field of horticultural development in Southern California is being steadily widened. For many years the only horticultural crops of importance raised in this section were grapes and oranges. Later, deciduous fruits were introduced, such as pears, apricots, plums, etc., and the shipping of these fruits has now assumed quite important proportions, while the area devoted to their culture is constantly increasing. Then there is the olive, which promises before many years to become a rival of the orange in point of importance. The almond also has been found successful in some regions of the southern counties, and its cultivation will undoubtedly continue to spread. The walnut has already assumed a leading position among the exports from this, Ventura and Santa Barbara counties, and strawberries are no insignificant item among our horticultural exports, the amount shipped last year from two points in this county aggregating nearly one million pounds.

In addition to fruits, there is the rapidly-increasing vegetable industry, especially the shipment of vegetables during the winter months. The celery industry, of itself, promises within a few years to become of very great value to this section. The shipment of asparagus in carload lots to the East will also soon commence.

To these products we may soon add tobacco, experiments with which around San Diego, Downey, San Bernardino and other points have begun quite encouraging. The sugar-beet industry is rapidly developing into a leading feature, while the cultivation of canals on a scale of considerable magnitude has been commenced in San Bernardino county.

It may, therefore, be seen that the change no longer holds good which was formerly made in regard to the horticultural industry in Southern California, that we had "all our eggs in one basket," so that in case there should be a failure in that particular crop, the farmers would be in a bad way. While there has been such a widening of the field of horticultural production, enterprise in this direction is as yet in its infancy. When we consider the great variety of soil and climates which are to be found between Santa Barbara and San Diego—between the ocean and the Mojave Desert—it is reasonable to believe that within comparatively few years there will be several branches of horticulture and agriculture in this section which will yield returns, little if any less in value than those now received from the orange industry.

Co-operation in Great Britain.

A paper on "Agricultural Co-operation" was read by Horace Plunkett, M.P., recently, before the Surveyors' Institute. He showed that today, after seven years' work, there were in Ireland fifty-eight cooperative dairying societies making butter, and ten auxiliary societies separating the cream and sending it to other dairies, and made up by one or other of the fifty-eight societies. The cost of their buildings and plant is estimated at £50,000; their output in 1896 was roughly, £300,000, and their membership embraces some 7000 farmers. In non-dairying districts of Ireland, societies are formed for the joint purchase of seeds, manures, feeding stuffs, implements and machinery. They are, in addition, launching out into the joint sale of live stock and agricultural produce, the improvement of live stock, the joint ownership of costly machinery, and similar undertakings. Similar principles are about to be applied to flax, and quite recently a crisis in the bacon industry has led bodies of Irish farmers to form societies for the cooperative marketing of their pigs, and even for the conversion of the latter into pork and bacon. Cooperative credit associations, on the lines of the Raiffeisen banks, have been proved to be beneficial in three parishes, and are likely to be extended throughout Ireland. Mr. Plunkett then pointed out how agricultural co-operation might be brought about in England.

There is room for the adoption of many of these ideas in the United States.

Flower Culture in Southern France.

In a recent issue of the Gardener's Chronicle, Edward Conner has an interesting article on the flower industry of Southern France, from which the following is taken. For ten years or more much has been said from time to time in the press of the State in regard to flower culture, but comparatively little has been accomplished. The opinion has been expressed by many experts that the soil and climate of Southern California are well adapted to the successful operation of the perfumery industry, and statements have occasionally been published to the effect that an attempt was to be made to introduce floriculture on a large scale, but the enterprises have not materialized. The following extract gives some idea of the importance of floriculture in France:

"In the matter of profit, the districts of Antibes and Cannes rank first; excellent outputs are also secured about the Golfe de Juan and Beaulieu. The total area actually cropped with flowers is nearly 1800 acres, of which the commune of Nice represents 500, and Cannes, Antibes, Mentone and Grasse each 250 acres. The villa residences commence to encroach on the flower lands, but the house proprietors themselves grow flowers, and that, with letting their villas, helps to make up the means of living. The very large growers of flowers resemble, it may be said, large farmers; they sell their produce to the laboratories or to contractors, or they enter into partnership with intelligent laborers and divide profits. In the winter season the culture is confined to the raising of cut and ornamental flowers. In summer the aim is to cultivate for the laboratories—that is, to distill for perfumery, to prepare essences, pomades and scented waters; it is also the season for harvesting seeds.

"It is a popular error to suppose that no skill or outlay is required to produce the supplies of flowers for northern latitudes between Christmas and May. Flower culture exacts capital and increasing care. Doubtless many conclude that the flowers grow naturally in the open air—this is an error; some do, but the most delicate and the most beautiful species are raised under glass. In the regions of Nice, Grasse and Mentone there are 200 acres of land covered over with glass frames, each frame costing at least £5, so that much capital is sunk in the industry. Other flowers are raised under canvas tents, and many are protected by matting. Roses and pinks are grown under glass, while the white lilac, lily-of-the-valley and also pinks are forced to bloom in the space of eighteen days. The lilac is white, because grown in darkness, but when exposed to the sun it rapidly assumes its tints, and no fewer than 200 shades of lilac have been recorded—a collection the late Monsieur Chevreul never could delineate. It is in the bloom and color-producing efficacy of the sun that much of the secret of flower-farming resides. Violets are generally grown beneath the shade of orange trees or under the shadow of walls. The Russian variety is classed first, then the Queen Victoria, which is of a deeper blue.

"Flower culture could never have succeeded were it not for the railway companies facilitating the industry. They guaranteed the quickest trains from the south to the north of France, accepting the flowers packed in special order baskets, and limited to parcel-post weights, never exceeding eleven pounds. It is thus that Nice and other places supply London, Berlin, Stockholm, etc. None go to St. Petersburg; the parcels, even for the imperial family, are too severely handled while passing through the customs. Germany is the best customer of France for flowers. The prices of flowers depend upon the weather and fashion. Formerly Berlin gave the top prices, now all are on a level; while the cultivators have their own daily latest market quotations published the same as for corn, pork or coal. At Cannes, roses range from 2d to 7s per dozen; pinks, 1d to 4s; orchids, 1s, 6d to 3s; narcissus that sell at one time at 1d each, can at other times be had at the same price per dozen. Occasionally taste runs in favor of white, red or yellow colors. During the General Boulanger craze in France, and especially Paris, red carnations obtained fancy prices, because the favorite flower of the then "hero of the day;" of late these flowers do not sell at all.

"Flowers for transport are generally cut before sunrise; the best only are chosen, and are packed with cotton, as in the case of camellias, roses and such orchids as do not stand the journey, or with tissue paper, or even both. Acacia or mimosa generally lines the baskets. "Flowers, as a rule, are not distilled at Grasse, etc., but the leaves, bark, seeds, roots, etc., of odoriferous plants are. The perfume in the other cases is secured by pressing the petals between layers of dust or lard; when the perfume has been absorbed the grease is dissolved in alcohol, which in turn absorbs the essence. Nice and Grasse work up yearly 800 tons of fat and 500 of oil in the preparation of perfumery. It takes twenty-five tons of rose petals to prepare two and a half pounds of essence of roses, the latter representing £100. In 1892 the railway station at Cannes alone forwarded 900 tons of flowers, valued at £150,000. The profits of flower-farming fluctuate between 8 and 18 per cent.

"France alone consumes the moiety of the total of her flower output. Paris is the great consumer; the capital needs perfumes and flowers for its fete, weddings and funeral ceremonies. It wishes flowers upon mantelpieces above a blazing fire—for bouquets in the eyes of French people mean safety. A bunch of Parma violets, can glide into a muff, can decorate a buttonhole, or ornament a corsage."

At the recent annual meeting of the Southern California Dairymen's Association, held in the Chamber of Commerce building, a resolution was adopted, asking all creameries now engaged in supplying the market of Los Angeles with butter to send representatives to attend a meeting which will be held at the office of G. G. Wickson & Co., No. 111 South Broadway, today for the purpose of holding a conference with a view to regulating the price of butter.

It is to be hoped that the request will be liberally responded to.

In a hog-feeding test at the Wisconsin station, 431 pounds of corn meal and shorts, half-and-half, produced 100 pounds grain; while it required 517 pounds corn meal alone, or 784 pounds whole corn, to produce 100 pounds grain.

A correspondent of the American Agriculturist has the following to say in regard to the advantages which result from planting beans with the eyes down. I should be interesting to learn the experience of other farmers in this direction.

"I had always been taught to plant lima beans with the eyes down, stuck carefully by hand; but last summer, when planting the Burpee's bush limas, it occurred to me to experiment. I had four rows fifteen rods long furrowed out and manured in the furrow, all precisely alike; two rows were stuck carefully by hand, eyes down; two rows were dropped the same as corn and covered with a hoe. The two rows that were stuck came up promptly, and all at once, making unbroken rows the length of the piece, with hardly a bean missing; the other two rows began to show a day or two later, a few at a time, and were about a week in getting up, and then were a ragged-looking lot, there being many gaps. Then the cutworms got in their work, and the result was, these two rows were almost a failure, while the rows that were stuck thrived and grew away from the worms and made a good crop. I think we cannot be too careful about publishing premature results of experiments, as much harm may be done thereby."

At his time of year, when the green feed begins to get short, the attention of poultry-keepers should once more be called to the necessity of supplying their flocks with green food in some shape, if they expect them to do good business in the egg line.

Superintendent Bristol Dead.
CHICAGO, April 30.—M. C. Bristol, superintendent of construction of the western division of the Western Union Telegraph Company, with headquarters at Chicago, died this morning. He had been ill two months with typhoid malarial fever. Bristol was born in New York in 1842, and served in the United States military telegraph corps during the war. He was appointed superintendent of construction of the Western Union February 1, 1879.

THE POWER OF SPOT CASH

BOUGHT AT PUBLIC AUCTION

We purchased at Public Auction, on last Monday morning, the entire stock and fixtures of the former well-known firm of Cohn Bros., who were forced to sell out their establishment by the orders of the Superior Court of this County. There were many merchants present at the Auction Sale, all ready and eager to pick up the snaps that might come their way; but they were doomed to disappointment, for the Auctioneer announced that he would sell the stock and fixtures

Teeth Extracted or Filled Without Pain

Without Gas, Chloroform, Cocaine or anything else that is dangerous. From one to thirty-two teeth extracted at one sitting without any bad after-effects. Safest and best method for elderly people and persons in delicate health, and for children.

Only 50c. An Extraction. A reduction when several are extracted.

Flexible Rubber Dental Plates.

OUR NEW PROCESS. Of Flexible Dental Plates is as yet but little known by the public, and less understood by dentists in general. It has many advantages over the ordinary rubber plate, even gold plates, being lighter and thinner. This plate being flexible, no thicker than heavy writing paper, fits close to the mouth, will last longer, and is tougher than any other rubber. Once tried, no other plate will be desirable. Brought to the notice of the public through Dr. Schiffman only.

One Gold Filling in every Flexible Rubber Plate Free of Charge.

Lady attendant to wait on Ladies and Children.

LARGEST DENTAL PRACTICE IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

This is to certify that I have had 13 teeth extracted by Dr. Schiffman's method and did not experience any pain. It is unquestionably the best work I ever had done.

On account of some unfortunate experiences I had in the extraction of my teeth I became a great coward in this respect. Today Dr. Schiffman extracted one of my very refractory teeth without causing me one moment of pain.

I can testify that the extracting of a tooth by Dr. Schiffman's method need not be dreaded by any one. He surely does it without pain.

MISUSED AUTHORITY

BAD CONDUCT OF AFFAIRS OF THE CITY POUND.

Fees Greedily Exact in Cases in Which no City Ordinances Had Been Violated.

SCHEMES OF THE DEPUTIES.

FRIGHTENED TETHERED HORSES TO MAKE THEM BREAK LOOSE.

Written Statements of Witnesses to the Crooked Dealings of the Animal-keepers—Queer Performances.

The methods employed by the keeper of the public pound and his four deputies have caused a general cry of indignation to go up from the owners of live stock in all the outlying districts of the city. The chief trouble is their way of enforcing the provisions of the new ordinance relating to the public pounds, as revised by the present City Council and put into effect March 28.

The new ordinance was published only once, and as it falls into the hands of comparatively few, the sections most frequently violated are re-published here.

Section 1 of this ordinance, after enumerating the animals coming under the head of live stock, continues:

"It shall be unlawful for the owner or person having the custody or control of any of the animals above named to stake out, herd or graze any of said animals upon any of said streets, alleys, open courts or places, public squares, parks or grounds, within said city limits; or to stake out, herd or graze any of said animals to be staked out, herded or grazed upon any uninclosed lot or private grounds, by means of ropes, lariats or other attachments, so that said ropes, lariats or other attachments shall reach beyond the line of said lot of ground so that said animals may range, herd or graze therefrom upon any of said streets, alleys, open courts or places, public squares, parks or grounds, or occupy or obstruct any of the sidewalks in said city."

The parts of section 6 relating to the poundmaster's fees reads:

"The charges or fees for arresting or taking up any animal herein mentioned, and for giving the notice hereinafter required, or for arresting or taking up said animal and driving the same to the public pound, shall be $1 for every horse, mule, jack, jennet, bull, cow or ox, and 50 cents for every calf, yearling, heifer, sheep, goat or hog."

In relation to other charges allowed the pound keeper, it says:

"Sec. 6. The pound keeper shall receive the following fees for the care of animals impounded, in addition to the impounding fee, the following charges for the period of eight days, if not sooner removed, to wit:

Horses, per day 50 cents
Colts, per day 25 cents
Mules, per day 25 cents
Jacks, per day 25 cents
Jennies, per day 25 cents
Cattle, per day 50 cents
Calves, per day 25 cents
Sheep, per day 10 cents
Goats, per day 10 cents
Hogs, per day 10 cents

The City Attorney has repeatedly instructed the pound keeper that no charges for food or care can be made until the animals have been at least several hours in his custody, yet it is upon the fees charged by him and the methods his deputies have used in securing animals to take to the pound that the public indignation is based.

That a land-office business has been carried on at the pound under the present management has been shown by the statements of people living in its vicinity. No record of the amount of stock or moneys received at the pound has been kept, and no accurate account can be ascertained there.

George Sukan, a grocer on East Ninth street, near the city limits, in conversation with a Times reporter, said:

"I know that 500 head would be a very conservative estimate for the number of horses that I have seen in the city pound since the new ordinance was passed." As Mr. Sukan is intimately acquainted with the pound keeper and has frequently been out on the daily round ups with his son, there is no reason to believe that this statement is in any way exaggerated.

Mrs. I. Gardner of Ninth and Alameda streets, said: "I see the pound deputies go past leading numbers of horses almost every day. I know that I have seen more than a hundred pass here." As this is only one of several entrances to the pound, and half a dozen blocks away, Mr. Sukan's statement is pretty well substantiated.

As the number of cows and goats kept by residents in the outlying districts is nearly equal to the number of horses, it can be readily seen that 1200 head is not too great an estimate for the number of animals impounded in the City Pound during the past five weeks.

The stock carried to the pound represents only a part of the actual numbers taken up by the deputies, as an almost equal amount is daily redeemed from the field. The deputies are four in number: a negro, a Mexican, the pound keeper's son, and his "partner."

In the early morning they saddle their broncos and, each taking an assistant with ropes for leading captured stock, start for the outlying districts for the day's foray. When one comes to a vacant tract where numbers of horses and cows are staked to grove, if he cannot find some whose ropes are of sufficient length to allow him to drag them across a property-line to a supposed sidewalk, he is said to have a convenient scheme ready.

Mrs. C. Hauck, wife of a cement contractor living at No. 1544 East Fourteenth street, says over her signature:

"I have seen the pound deputies ride their horses into the vacant lots on Sixteenth street and race back and forth across them among the staked-out stock; if any animal was frightened into breaking away it was promptly lassoed and carried off to the pound."

If this method does not result in getting something loose, the deputy has recourse to a second bright scheme. As C. Scott, a musician living at No. 514 Towne avenue, had his two horses taken to the pound under very suspicious circumstances, herewith is given Mr. Scott's written statement:

"One Saturday evening in March, I staked my two horses on a partly vacant lot on East Fourth street. Shortly afterward Mr. Allen, who lives on Crocker street, said: 'You had better look out for your horses as we well fastened. I saw one of the pound deputies sizing them up this evening.' I went for the horses at daylight Sunday morning, but found them gone. After about two hours' looking around I went down to the city pound and there found horses and ropes. The latter had been cut cleanly as by a knife and the piece that fastened them was gone. The deputy at the pound stated that a telephone message was sent him from the Police Station that two horses were lost on Fourth street and that he had brought them in a little after 5 o'clock. I have since gone to the station and ascertained from the records there that no such message was sent."

"The horses could not have been in the pound two hours, yet I was compelled to pay $3 for their liberation."

NEW STATUTES AND AMENDMENTS TO THE CODES OF CALIFORNIA.

Adopted at the Thirty-second Session of the Legislature, 1897—List of Appropriations—Complete Digest of All the Legislative Acts Which Gov. Budd Approved, and Which Have Become Part of the Law of the State.

A complete digest of all the statutes and amendments to the Codes of California adopted at the recent session of the Legislature is given in this issue of THE TIMES. The acts are grouped together under these heads: (1.) Amendments to the Penal Code. (2.) Amendments to the Civil Code. (3.) Amendments to the Code of Civil Procedure. (4.) Amendments to the Political Code. (5.) New Statutes. (6.) Appropriations. The date when each act goes into effect is stated in the brackets at the end of the digest of each act. The more important of the amendments and statutes will be found under sub-heads indicating their purport.

AMENDMENTS TO THE PENAL CODE.

Section 297. Reduces the grade of the offense of selling liquor to Indians from felony to misdemeanor, and fixes the punishment at fine or imprisonment in the State Prison or county jail. (April 25.)

GAME AND FISH LAWS.

Sec. 632. Fixes the close seasons for trout between December 1 and April 1. (February 23.)

Sec. 634. Fixes close season for salmon, shad, striped bass and star-gate between October 15 and November 15. (February 23.)

Sec. 626. Establishes close seasons as follows: For valley quail, bobwhite, partridge, wild duck and rail, March 1 to October 1; for mountain quail and grouse, February 15 to September 1; for doves, February 15 to July 1; for pheasants, March 9, 1897, to March 1, 1898; for male deer, October 15 to July 15. Forbids absolutely the destruction of female deer, spotted fawn, antelope, elk, moose, mountain sheep. Protects the eggs and nests of other birds. Forbids the killing or offering to sell any protected game, makes the violation of the laws punishable by fine or imprisonment in the county jail, and provides that it shall be no defense in a prosecution for a violation of the provisions of this section that the birds or animals were taken or killed on the credit of, except the hides of animals killed in Alaska or any foreign country. (March 9.)

THE NEW SECTIONS, NUMBERED 628 a, b, c, d, e, f, g, h, i, added to the Penal Code by the Act of March 27, 1895, are repealed, and all their provisions are consolidated into the single section 628.

Sec. 627. Forbids the use of shot-guns of larger than No. 12 gauge. Forbids hunting on posted grounds without the permission of the owner. Forbids the transportation out of the State of any protected game, doe or fawn, quail, partridge, pheasant, grouse, prairie-chicken, dove and wild duck, except for purposes of propagation, where permission is obtained from the California Board of Fish-Commissioners. Imposes penalties of fine or imprisonment for violation of this section. The new section added by the Act of March 27, 1895, designated 627 a, b, c, d, are consolidated into this section. (March 9.)

GRAND JURY.

Sec. 925. Requires the grand jury, upon the demand of the District Attorney, to employ a stenographer to report the testimony of the witnesses, the same to be afterward reduced to long-hand form and delivered to the defendant for use on his trial. (March 9.) [This is a decided innovation in grand jury law, the merits of which can only be tested by experience.]

Sec. 928. Provides that if the grand jury shall in their report on examination into county affairs comment upon any person or official who has not been indicted, that he shall be deemed to be privileged. (March 27.) So that the members of the grand jury in such cases would be exposed to the charge of libel if they made false and malicious statements about county officials. [A wholesome check on the right of criticism by the grand jury.]

APPEAL BY THE PEOPLE.

Sec. 1238. Provides that an appeal may be taken by the people from an order setting aside the indictment or information, or from an order granting a new trial, or from an order granting a judgment of acquittal, or from an order granting a judgment of conviction, or from an order granting a judgment of dismissal, or from an order granting a judgment of reversal, or from an order granting a judgment of K. OF P. RECEPTION.

Extended to Grand Chancellor C. F. McGlashen.

Pythian Castle Hall, North Spring street, was the scene last evening of one of the most enthusiastic events in the history of Pythianism in Los Angeles.

The affair was a reception tendered to Gen. C. F. McGlashen of Truckee, Grand Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias jurisdiction of California. The event was also the first anniversary of Los Angeles Lodge No. 205, which was practically the host.

Gen. McGlashen was elected to the office of Grand Prince in 1894, and at the session of the Grand Lodge at Monterey in 1895 was unanimously elected Grand Vice Chancellor, and at the session at San Francisco was given a like compliment for the high office he now fills. By virtue of this office he is also made Brigadier General of the Uniform Rank of the State.

He was escorted from the hotel to the Castle Hall last evening by Los Angeles and Pasadena companies of the Uniform Rank, headed by the Catalina Band. Previous to the reception Los Angeles Lodge held a short session, after which the committee of arrangements of the several lodges took charge and the reception and attendant exercises commenced. The hall was well-filled with members of the order from lodges of the city and delegations from Pasadena, Santa Monica, San Pedro and other places in the vicinity, and members from a distance. A. L. Selig, Chancellor Commander of Los Angeles Lodge, delivered an address of welcome, and remarks were also made by W. H. Esdor, C. C. Maratton, Lodge No. 182, D. J. Cooper of Gauntlett Lodge No. 129, E. K. Trask, C. C. of Samson Lodge No. 178 and Judge J. G. Rossier of Pasadena Lodge. A feature of the entertainment was the recitation of a poem by Knight Briggs of Missoula, Montana. The Grand Chancellor was conducted into the lodge-room by W. S. Spencer as Grand Master at Arms and received with grand honors by the entire assembly. During the course of the evening the Grand Chancellor made an address and exemplified the secret work. With the visit of last night he has during the past year visited 140 lodges, and this visit finishes his work for the term. He paid the order in Southern California a high compliment for its enthusiasm and excellence of work. The committee in charge of the affair last evening was as follows: Los Angeles Lodge, Knights McGlashen, Herman, Runkle, Marathon Lodge; Knights Ibrg, Routzahn, Stansbury; Gauntlett Lodge; Knights Brown, Bookhart, Whitteman; Samson Lodge; Knights Bruning, Weeks and Smith.

AZUSA. April 30.—(Regular Correspondence.) Preparations for the Zoological Society meeting, which will be held here next week, are completed, and every thing indicates that the arrangements will be large and the program of a most interesting and valuable character. Horticulturists will be present from many towns and the papers will be prepared by experts and discussed by many farmers who have given particular attention to the respective subjects. Prof. A. J. Cook of the University of California, who has organized many farmers' clubs through Southern California, is taking steps to have such a club organized here at the time of the meeting and it is believed a strong club will result.

For the Relief Fund.

The Southern California Music Company is contributing to the fund for the relief of the unemployed the price of a Shaw piano, which is to be sold by tickets costing 10 cents each. The sale is under the supervision of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association. The piano is valued at $500 and the whole amount will be turned into the relief fund. Somebody probably will get a piano for 10 cents.

WHO AND WHAT IS HE

INFORMATION IS WANTED CONCERNING JOHN DOE SMITH.

The Police Believe They Have an Old-time Criminal Locked Up in the City Prison.

HE IS STUBBORNLY RETICENT.

REFUSED TO BE PHOTOGRAPHED, WEIGHED OR MEASURED.

Arrested Under Peculiar Circumstances and Found to Have Burglar's Tools in His Possession. Probable Local Operations.

There is an old man in the City Prison who positively refuses to tell the authorities anything about himself. He is booked and John Doe Smith. When he was arrested a few days ago on a charge of being drunk and having burglars' tools in his possession, his refusal to give his name or any information whatever concerning his antecedents was attributed to pure and simple stubbornness. It has been found that there is method in his reticence, and there can be little doubt that he is an old offender, anxious above all things to conceal his identity. The history of the case, locally, though brief, is interesting in the light of recent developments.

Late last Friday night a gay company of young men about town were standing in front of the Ramona Hotel, when they were joined by an elderly stranger. He was very drunk and invited them to partake of his hospitality at a neighboring bar. They accepted and the old fellow spent something like $10 in giving his new acquaintances a good time. In an hour or so he was in an almost helpless condition, and his friends offered to assist him to his room. He told them he lived at the Westminster Hotel, but when his escort had taken him there he admitted that he had lied and that he had no room in town. Then one of the young men took him to the Piedmont lodging-house, engaged a room for him, assisted him to undress and put him to bed.

Policeman Rice had seen the pair enter the lodging-house and something in their actions had aroused his suspicions. As the younger man emerged from the house to rejoin his friends, the officer stopped him and asked for explanations. These not proving entirely satisfactory Rice took the young man back to the room where the old fellow, now sober and drunk, was sleeping soundly. Rice proceeded to search both men. Nothing was found upon the younger to justify his arrest, but in the pockets of the old man's trousers he came upon two pairs of burglars' pickers of the latest make. The sleeper was at once aroused and hustled off to jail. Then began his stubborn resistance, and from the hour of his arrest, week ago, until the present, he has resisted all attempts to ascertain anything about him or his affairs. Yesterday he was tried before Justice Morrison on the two charges against him and sentenced to six months in the City Jail.

During the two weeks preceding the old man's arrest, from one to three burglaries a night were reported to the police. Though Detective Goodman, who handled the cases, was satisfied these crimes were nearly all committed by the same man, he was baffled in all attempts to discover the identity of the criminal. He is now morally certain that the prisoner is responsible for at least three of them.

In making his investigations Goodman found at three of the places which had been entered a man's footprint in the soft earth. These footprints he carefully preserved and yesterday took the old prisoner's boots and found they fitted the tracks to a hair. There is, therefore, a particle of doubt as to who committed these three burglaries.

Yesterday an attempt was made to photograph the prisoner and get a physical description of him. He resisted both operations like a tiger at bay. Though it was impossible to get a picture which looked anything like the original, the officers were able to obtain something like an accurate description of him.

He is five feet, four and three-quarters inches in height and very thin built, weight 116 pounds, full gray whiskers and mustache; eyes, blue; nose, straight; eye brows, dark brown; teeth, very poor. All of the teeth of the upper jaw are missing. The prisoner wears No. 6 boots.

The officers are certain that they have caged a bird of high criminal feather.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People

Examination

Did you awake with excruciating pains in your head and face? Yes, doctor.

Have you been exposed to draughts and colds? Yes, doctor.

Your appetite has been poor for some time? Yes, doctor.

Has your stomach rebelled against food? Yes, doctor.

Have you been feeling dull and heavy for some time? Yes, doctor.

Have you taken much exercise before your present sickness? No, doctor.

Your trouble is neuralgia, or the nerves crying for nourishment. Your organs of digestion are inactive, your food is undigested and the nerves derive little or no nourishment. You need a combination of herbs—mineral drugs that will stimulate your digestive organs and promote assimilation; then your nerves will derive proper nourishment and you will be cured. Continue the hot applications on the face and head. Use a coarse towel, bound around the face, will give a prescription.

R. JOY'S VEGETABLE For Mrs. M. Sig.

Take the two (2) teaspoonfuls three (3) times a day. When bowels are regular use one teaspoonful.

For Mrs. SARAPARILLA. (One bottle.)

PASADENA.

A TAXPAYER'S VIEWS ON THE ELECTRIC ROAD'S OFFER.

Col. Green Presents a Practical Statement of the Issue—The Lippincott Undertaking Company Will Make an Assignment—John Grant Held for Burglary.

PASADENA, April 30.—[Regular Correspondence.] The proposition of the electric road to light the city's streets free of charge is an offer which concerns every taxpayer in Pasadena. If accepted, it means a reduction of 14 per cent. in the city's expenditures, based upon the report for the last municipal year, and a corresponding lightening of the burdens imposed upon property-owners. Col. G. G. Green may be fairly considered as a representative of this class in the community, as he probably pays more taxes than anyone else in Pasadena. Col. Green was asked this evening to express his views of the street railway problem. He responded as follows:

"My property interests in Pasadena are large. I am proposing to make them larger. It is my winter home, and I am deeply interested in its future. My investment in the bonds of the Pasadena & Los Angeles Electric Railway Company, in comparison with other interests, is insignificant, so that naturally, in considering the rights of the railway company and the city, where they are in conflict, my preference would be largely for the city. Therefore, what I have to say is what I believe to be for the best interests of Pasadena. After giving careful consideration to the subject so absorbing at this time, my conclusions are as follows:

"Only one street-railway can be maintained here with any profit. No city ever served its best interests by permitting two street-railways where there is only one business for one. It has always resulted, and always will, in one or the other becoming bankrupt, and in inefficient service being rendered to the city. The one that becomes bankrupt will be absorbed by the other, unless both should be ruined in the contest. Unwarranted competition in public service has been the cause of the city making it possible, and given to the poor service. Cheap fares to Los Angeles mean disaster to all business interests of Pasadena. The railway company now in operation is giving excellent service, and proposes to give better. The city should reorganize from a committee composed of men with character and means, which insures every promise being kept. The city will have all extensions provided for in franchises granted, promptly made, and the company will be placed in a position to be able to make any other extensions where the traffic warrants. The proposition for free public lighting offers privileges possessed by no other city. The City Council cannot afford to reject it. It means a saving of expenditure of $100,000 per annum, with additional lights. The cost of lighting the city will increase as the city grows. This proposition means now a saving of $100,000, with reasonable expectation that in a few years it will amount to $250,000 per annum. As a large taxpayer here, it is important to me, and is important to every taxpayer. It is from this standpoint that I view it. As a substantial evidence of good faith in carrying out this proposition, the reorganization committee has arranged for the purchase of the stock of the electric lighting plant, a prosperous company in good financial condition, and under agreement, is to become the absolute property of the reorganized railway company, and so placed as to protect the city's interests. As a member of that committee, I speak advisedly. To quibble on legal technicalities on a matter of such importance to the city is an absurdity. The City Trustees cannot afford to lose this opportunity.

"The clamor for another franchise was born in the brain of parties having selfish interests to serve. Under a misconception of the situation, and by the cry of monopoly, they have prejudiced the public. Under sober reflection, and when the facts are understood, the situation will be, this clamor will die, and the action of the Trustees if they secure free public lighting, and deny another street railway franchise, will meet the universal approval. The Trustees now have the opportunity to get all the street railway extensions required, to get free public lighting, and to save $100,000 to $250,000 yearly in taxes to a city already too heavily burdened. As a taxpayer, and as a believer in Pasadena and its future, I want it done. I believe I voice the sentiment of all the large taxpayers and a large number of the small ones whose self-interest will not be served by granting the franchise asked for."

WILL MAKE AN ASSIGNMENT.

The Lippincott Undertaking Company has been in financial straits, and an assignment will be made for the benefit of creditors. As already reported in "The Times," an attachment was levied Thursday morning on the California Casket Company upon a claim of $225. The total liabilities of the insolvent concern are said to be about $4000 and the assets are estimated at the same amount. S. Rison Lippincott, a member of the company, says, however, that the assets will not realize anything like their inventory value and that they will not be sufficient to pay more than 50 cents on the dollar.

HELD FOR TRIAL.

The preliminary trial of John Grant, alias Dan Burns, alias Scotty, charged with burglary, was held this morning before Recorder Raper.

Grant is charged with stealing a bicycle from the stable of John H. Adams. The wheel was found in Los Angeles by Detective Goodman and arrested Grant and obtained a confession of the theft from him. The testimony of several witnesses was presented by the prosecution. Grant was held in answer in the Superior Court on the charge of burglary. Bail was fixed at $1500 in default of bail, the prisoner was taken to the County Jail.

SAN DIEGO COUNTY.

A Horse Doctor Stabbed in the Face.

SAN DIEGO, April 30.—[Regular Correspondence.] W. D. Andrews, a horse doctor, became angry with Louis Cox, who was whittling a stick, and assaulted him with a board. Cox warned Andrews to desist. The warning was unheeded. Cox rushed at his assailant and with his jack-knife carved Andrews' face to the bone. A surgeon attended to the wounds. The law officers, upon learning the facts in the case, declined to take action against Cox, as it appeared that he merely acted in self-defense.

MURDERER EBANKS'S PLAN.

J. J. Ebanks, the mulatto convicted of a double murder near Oceanside 18 months ago, and now in jail awaiting confirmation of sentence by the Supreme Court, is reported to be contemplating civil suits for damages against the Coronado Beach Company and the United States Fish and Game Commission, claiming that the government is responsible for the death of his wife and child. He also claims to be a British subject and wants protection from England and a murder case will soon be passed on by the Supreme Court of this State, and it is believed his death sentence will be promptly executed.

REDLANDS.

Burned by Small Boys—Special School Tax—Notes.

REDLANDS, April 30.—[Regular Correspondence.] A barn and contents, the property of Mrs. M. F. Burke, was burned Thursday afternoon. The fire was the result of the careless handling of matches by a group of small boys.

The school trustees have given out a statement as to the necessity of a special school tax. It transpires that the money is needed to make necessary repairs at the elementary school, and for improving out the grounds of the State street primary school. The amount asked is not large, and will probably be voted without more ado.

City Engineer J. H. Lum has resigned his position. The office did not give steady employment, and its duties were not commensurate with the lucrative nature. His successor has not yet been appointed.

Work on the new park is progressing rapidly. The site has been cleared, and the walks and driveways have been laid out. Two carloads of choice varieties of shrubbery were received yesterday, and the work of setting out these, together with a quantity of domestic grown plants, specially selected for the purpose, will be begun at once.

At its next meeting the Board of Supervisors will probably appoint a new Horticultural Commission, under the provisions of the law passed by the legislature. B. W. Cave of Redlands will probably be one of the appointees of this community.

The Y.M.C.A. membership contest closes at 9:30 clock this Friday night. The "Blues" captained by Ralph Richey, are well in the lead, and will probably be the winners. The "Reds" seem to be hopelessly in the rear, and will no doubt have to provide the banquet for the association. Much hard work has been done by each of the three divisions, and a large number of new members has been secured.

The much talked-of ball game between the Redlands and San Bernardino teams seems to be an assured fact. Redlands will furnish three members of the Riverside team, and the work of setting out these, together with a quantity of domestic grown plants, specially selected for the purpose, will be begun at once.

SAN PEDRO.

PERILOUS VOYAGE OF TWO MEN IN A SKIFF.

They Rowed Fifty Miles Over a Choppy Sea to Escape Starvation on a Desert Island—The Hitch in the Harbor—News Notes.

SAN PEDRO, April 30.—[Regular Correspondence.] Two San Pedro fishermen, Adolf Johnson and C. M. Yaw, have accomplished the feat of rowing in a twelve-foot skiff from one of the Santa Barbara Islands to this port, a distance of more than fifty miles. The perilous voyage was not undertaken for pleasure, nor for love of adventure, but to avoid death from hunger and thirst on the desert island. They were almost famished when they arrived here, were worn out from their thirteen hours' tedious rowing over a choppy sea. The men tell a story of hardship as follows:

They left San Pedro in the early part of April in a small schooner owned by a man who had induced them to join him in the crabbing business. They sailed to one of the islands where they found water and provisions sufficient to last them several weeks. The owner of the schooner brought them back to this port, promising to return to the island in a few weeks with fresh supplies and to take away the fish they would catch.

Johnson and Yaw found the fishing good and worked contentedly until their store of provisions and water ran low. In vain they looked for the return of the schooner. Day after day passed by, and no sail was in sight. Their scanty store of food and drink became exhausted. True they had plenty of fish to eat, but an all-fish diet soon palls on the appetite. They managed to evaporate enough sea-water to keep their throats from parching, but they realized that they could not hold out much longer on so slim a diet.

Finally they abandoned hope of the schooner ever returning, so they determined to hazard a voyage across the channel in the small skiff with which they were provided. With four raw crabfish for food and a small bottle of brackish water to drink, they set off from the island at 8 o'clock in the evening, arriving at San Pedro at 10 o'clock.

For thirteen long, weary hours they labored at the oars. The sea was rough, and sometimes it was as much as they could do to keep the little craft from turning turtle. Both are good oarsmen, and it was only by dint of skilful handling of the paddles that they managed to keep afloat, and at the same time make headway toward the mainland. They were almost exhausted when they reached port. Had they not been rescued by the schooner, which was waiting for them, they would have perished.

After Johnson and Yaw had recuperated from their hardships, they looked up their faithless partner to see what excuse he had for abandoning them to their fate on the island. He explained that it was all due to bad weather and a misunderstanding with another man who was to have sailed with them. The owner of the schooner did not think that their provisions and water would be exhausted so soon, so he had not been prepared to return.

The men, although they had suffered greatly and narrowly escaped with their lives, were nevertheless grateful to the vessel owner for his relief. They had, however, no desire to duplicate the experience.

WHERE THE HITCH IS.

R. R. Gilbert, a court reporter located here, is in receipt of the following letter:

"HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. 'WASHINGTON, April 22, 1897. 'R. R. Gilbert, Esq., San Pedro, Cal. Dear Sir: Your letter of the 5th inst., in regard to the San Pedro Harbor appropriation, at hand. Would have answered it, but have been so busy with trying to get information, and am yet uncertain. My opinion is that the harbor will be established at San Pedro, but I cannot say. Of receipt of your letter, I called on the Secretary of War and had a conference with him about it. He said he would consider the matter in a few days, and I will write you again. With regards, etc., I am yours truly, D. McCULLOUGH.'"

Mr. McCullough is the Congressman from the First Congressional District of Arkansas.

A couple came down from Los Angeles Wednesday to get married. The woman was but recently divorced and could not legally remarry within the State before the expiration of six days. They, therefore, chartered a gasoline launch and were married at sea, returning to Los Angeles in the evening.

The county road between Wilmington and here, lessened the distance about one mile. The old road runs by the old Sepuveda ranch; the new road was cut through the Southern Pacific Railroad tracks, making a fill across the tidelands.

Harry Lane, who fell from a pile of lumber in the South Gate Lumber Company's yard some time ago, and broke his leg, is able to be about with the assistance of crutches.

George H. Eck, Jr., is shipping fifty tons of corn for export to California at Wilmington. The corn is to go by the steamer Eureka to San Francisco for Gerberding & Co.

Thomas H. Fawcett leaves next week for San Francisco where he will attend the session of the Grand Lodge of the I.O.O.F., as a delegate from the local lodge.

The Public Library is to be increased with a large number of choice works. New bookcases have to be added to make room to hold them.

Schooner Falk, Capt. Anderson, has arrived from the north with a cargo of lumber for the San Pedro Lumber Company.

F. Napp left for Newhall, where he is developing oil.

VENTURA COUNTY.

Home-seekers From Oklahoma—A Mammoth Asphalt Plant.

VENTURA, April 30.—[Regular Correspondence.] A party of home-seekers arrived here this week from the storm-swept territory of Oklahoma, and so favorably impressed by the richness of the climate and soil that they have concluded to make their homes here and engage in farming.

Georg L. Sackett, County Superintendent of Schools, reports forty-five accredited schools for this county.

The steamer Navarro arrived at Huemul last night and will load 7000 sacks of lima beans for export to England.

From the Old Valley comes the report that a number of gold hunters are prospecting in the vicinity of Fraser Mountain, with good results, but with much hard work and expense as much blasting has to be done.

Light shows have fallen in the Ojai and the mountain regions of this county this week, but in volume only enough to lay the dust.

Represented and other officers of the California Asphalt Company, arrived here this week, and are busily engaged in making arrangements to erect at Ojai a mill and stills for manufacturing asphaltum and sulphuric acid. The officers of this company are men of capital, experience and energy, and the plant which will be in operation in three months, with an output of 300 barrels of refined asphaltum per day, furnishing employment to a large number of hands. Their costly and latest improved machinery, numbering thirty-six carloads, is due here next Wednesday from the East.

Miss Maggie Kelly, who recently became violently insane, has been sent to Highland Asylum.

Rev. O. Parker and family left this week for Los Angeles, their future home. As pastor of the Episcopal Church here, he made many warm friends, who greatly regret his being called away to larger fields.

Ventura Lodge, No. 173, A.O.U.W., has presented Under Sheriff J. J. Snodgrass with a handsome and costly gold society badge.

The Coos Bay on her south-bound trip left thirty-four tons of freight at this port.

Business at this port is constantly on the increase. An effort was made this summer to extend the wharf and to induce the big San Francisco and San Diego steamers to touch here, as passengers from the coast, and upon the Coos Bay, is due here next Wednesday from the East.

The steamer Navarro brought to this port this week from the north 40,000 feet of redwood lumber, 70,000 shingles, 50,000 shakes and 1000 fence posts. In vain they looked for the return of the schooner. Day after day passed by, and no sail was in sight. Their scanty store of food and drink became exhausted. The Last Obstacle to Railroad Building Removed—Active Work.

POMONA, April 30.—[Regular Correspondence.] The last obstacle in the way of the completion of the Southern Pacific road from this city to Riverside was removed this morning when P. C. Edgar, who has been in charge of the road, took to Los Angeles a deed of right-of-way through her twenty-acre ranch. This completes the right-of-way.

The Southern Pacific Company has thrown into town Wednesday has been making the dirt fly at a lively rate, and there seems to be good prospect of the company's success in getting the road in operation through May 11, when the bond will be forfeited by the company.

The company is now running as far as Pomona by that date.

POMONA BREVIETTES. The Del Monte Irrigation Company, which has been rather short of water, today completed negotiations with Archie Thompson whereby they get the surplus water from his well for the coming year. This will amount to from thirty to forty inches and equips the company in good shape for the year.

This water is a recent development and is another illustration of the steady growth going on in the development of water in the development of water by the sinking of wells.

The churches of Pomona are steadily gaining in numbers. An illustration of this is furnished by the fact that the Methodist Church last Sunday received thirty-one new members from probation and by the further fact that on next Sunday the Congregational Church will receive seven new members by letter and eight by confession.

Several churches have also had recent accessions of members in considerable numbers.

Fire at Cartersville, Ill.

CARTERSVILLE (Ill.), April 30.—Fire, which broke out early today, destroyed a large number of business houses, causing a loss of at least $75,000. The fire broke out in the store of Simon and J. O'Neil had a narrow escape from being burned in bed.

ORANGE COUNTY.

A FILM-FLAM OPERATOR KEPT IN DUNGEON VILE.

Released from Santa Barbara Jail and sent to Santa Ana—A Veteran's Flocke Wife—Sabbath Observance Crusade.

SANTA ANA, April 30.—[Regular Correspondence.] James McMillen, a recent resident of Santa Barbara, is now in trouble in this county. He was brought to Santa Ana from Anaheim by Constable Groat to serve five months in the County Jail for "dum-dumming" Miss Clara Mosseman of the "Mother Colony" out of $5 during the month of February last. McMillen has been serving time in the County Jail at Santa Barbara for obtaining money unlawfully from the office of the way down false pretenses, and when his time there expired Constable Groat was on hand to bring him here to answer to the charge made against him in this county. He stoutly protested his innocence to the officer of the way down, but was taken before Judge Ballard, where he was identified by her, he admitted his guilt. He was then taken before Judge of the Peace Pierce and, upon pleading guilty, was sentenced to five months' imprisonment in the County Jail.

A PICKLE SPOUSE. Moses A. Remick of Anaheim, in the Superior Court of this county today (Friday), told the story of the fickleness of his wife, Jennie Remick, who instituted suit against him some months ago for separate maintenance, having refused to live with him. The wife is considerably younger than the husband, and their domestic relations for several years have been rather strained. Mrs. Remick, through her attorney, had secured an order from the court compelling the defendant to pay a certain sum of money with which the wife could prosecute the case, and for her maintenance and support. The case came before Judge Ballard today. The plaintiff did not appear in person or through an attorney, thus allowing the case to go by default. After the testimony of the defendant and others was heard the court ordered a decree for the defendant, the testimony going to show that the wife had deserted her husband and that Mr. Remick, who is a respectable citizen and a veteran of the Civil War, was the injured party. Mrs. Remick is now living in Los Angeles.

ORANGE COUNTY BREVIETTES. There will be a mass-meeting in Orange Sunday evening at the Presbyterian Church, for the purpose of advancing the better observance of the Sabbath day. Rev. Thomas Stalker will address the meeting on "The Necessity for a Sabbath." Rev. P. B. Hall of "The Highest Motive for Keeping the Lord's Day," and Rev. Kilpatrick of Santa Ana on "Desecration of the Sabbath." The meeting is to be held under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society and the Epworth League.

Miss Hattie Muddell of Santa Ana was married Thursday evening of this week to Jeff Harlin, an old-time resident of the Santa Ana Valley, at the residence of the bride's parents, East Wellington avenue. Only relatives and a few friends were present. Mr. and Mrs. Harlin will make their permanent home on the San Joaquin ranch, where Mr. Harlin is engaged in farming.

Word has been received in Santa Ana that the Chinamen at Alamitos have been in the work in the beet fields, have departed for Los Angeles, leaving the white laborers masters of the situation. Over one hundred coolies took their departure, says the report.

According to the Anaheim Gazette there are 657 children in that town of school age, and 112 live in the town, under the age of 5 years, making a total of 869 children in the town. The increase for the year is given as 140. The census was taken by S. Littlejohn.

Cards are out announcing the coming marriage of Miss Cora Jessup to W. C. Vail, both parties being residents of the town of Orange. The wedding is announced for Wednesday evening, May 12, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Starbuck.

E. W. Wallace of Santa Ana has purchased the interest of his partner, B. E. Turner in the book and stationery business and news agencies of the firm of Wallace & Turner. Mr. Turner will retain the management of the telephone exchange.

County Tax Collector Freeman reports the amount of taxes collected for the month of April as $51,663.55. The amount of delinquency will probably be a little more this year than last.

Arthur Lyons has begun suit in the Superior Court of this county for a divorce from his wife, Cornelia Lyons, on the ground of desertion.

John Johnson, a vagrant brought up from Capistrano, is serving out a ten day's sentence in the county jail at hard labor.

Superior Judge Ballard granted Mary M. White a divorce from her husband, C. White, on the ground of desertion.

The steamer Protection was at Newport Thursday and left a quantity of freight for the Santa Ana Valley.

Miguel Lopez of Capistrano died Thursday after a brief illness.

SANTA BARBARA COUNTY.

Kindergarten Class Given a Vacation—A Bicycle Accident.

SANTA BARBARA, April 30.—[Regular Correspondence.] The members of the kindergarten normal class find that they are required to hold primary certificates in order to teach in the kindergarten departments, and since the time for preparation is short, the trainer has granted a vacation to all members of the class who wish to take the county examination in June. Those preparing are two from the senior class and the entire junior class. The other members will continue their kindergarten course

CITY BRIEFS.

The Twilight Concert to be given by the Young Ladies' Auxiliary of Immanuel Church, corner of Tenth and First streets, at 5 p.m. Saturday, May 1, promises to be a unique affair. The following names appear in the programme: Miss Winston, Mrs. J. S. Owens, Miss Matilee Lewis, Miss Mary J. O'Donoghue, Mr. and Mrs. Rowan, Jr., Mr. France and Mr. Harley Hamilton. There will be no admission charge, but every one will have an opportunity to give a small offering at the door for the benefit of Y.W.C.A.

Think not that on account of the half rate our work is different from what it was at full price. Every picture which leaves our gallery must be a work of art in lighting, pose and finish. No torture, but a pleasure, to sit before our camera. Do not overlook our Carbons; we are old hands at that. Inspect the architectural beauty of the Photographic Temple, Scholl, Byrne Building, Third and Broadway. Interest is daily growing in the new Shave piano in the new Shave piano. The Merchants' Association will dispose of this handsome instrument to the best advantage. The piano is now on exhibition at the Southern California Music Company, in the Bradbury building.

Lost—A pocketbook containing railway transportation, telegraph and other papers in the name of H. G. Otis; also money. The papers are of no value to any one but the owner, and the finder who will be rewarded with a reward half the money, if he will return, without further delay, the pocketbook and contents to the Times office.

The unemployed of this city should certainly feel proud of the matchless Shaw Piano donated to them by the Southern California Music Co. The instrument is now on exhibition in the company's windows in the Bradbury building. Full particulars can be had inside. Think that you might be the owner of that piano for 10 cents.

It was decided to enlarge and extend the exchange, and a general meeting, to which all interested in the work are invited, will be held on Tuesday, May 4, in the new building, corner Third and San Pedro streets.

Blacksmith Versus Small Boys. Two small boys about five years old were arrested by Policeman Jeffries last night and charged with petty larceny. The little fellows are named Gus Lockridge and Ignatius Naskie. They made the mistake of offering for sale to a blacksmith a jack plane which they had taken from his shop at the corner of Eighth and Main streets. John Wilhelm is the hardy smithy at whose instigation the boys were arrested.

The Pony Show. Prof. Gentry's dog and pony show will close tonight. The largest audience of the week was present last night. There will be a matinee performance today at 2:30.

The company has been enlarged by the addition of several men and dogs which Prof. Gentry purchased in the city. They will be educated to take their part in the performance.

P. Pedley, a rancher and mine-owner of Corona, is in town. He is at the Nadeau.

SHE WANTED REST.

MRS. STORIE MAKES AN ATTEMPT TO COMMIT SUICIDE.

She Swallows a Quantity of Chloroform and the Receiving Hospital Physicians Have a Hard Time Saving Her from Death.

Mrs. T. Storie made a determined attempt to commit suicide at the home of her mother, Mrs. Furdon, at No. 100 First street, yesterday afternoon. She was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where Police Surgeon Hagan and his assistants managed to save her life after several hours' hard work.

Mrs. Storie is the wife of T. Storie, the well-known electrician of the Burbank theater. Her attempt at self-destruction was the result of domestic difficulties growing out of petty jealousies, caused by neighborhood gossip.

The Stories have been married about a year and lived at No. 545 Los Angeles street. The young wife has always been of a credulous nature and, it is said, her suspicions of her husband's unfaithfulness have lately been fanned into a fire of jealousy which amounted almost to insanity. In her husband's presence she was calm enough and maintained her usual good spirits, but during his short absences from home the wagging tongues of the gossips, to which she seems to have lent a ready ear, completely destroyed her peace of mind and made her home a hell.

Yesterday afternoon she took her husband to task and they quarreled bitterly. He left the house and she immediately set out for her mother's home on First street. Arriving there she threw herself upon a couch and burst into tears. The mother sought to soothe her, but was hindered to go away.

"I am tired," sobbed the wretched woman, "and I want to rest." Mrs. Furdon left her for a time, but, returning shortly afterward, found her daughter in a condition bordering on collapse. The alarm was at once given and the authorities summoned.

At the hospital it was ascertained that Mrs. Storie had taken a large dose of chloroform, and it was feared at first that she would not be revived. Under vigorous treatment, however, she finally showed signs of improvement and late last night was in a fair way to recovery.

BELL BOY IN TROUBLE.

He Steals Articles from a Guest's Room and Goes to Jail.

Ed Hughes, for some time employed as a bell-boy at the Bellevue Hotel, is an inmate of the City Prison charged with petty larceny.

A few days ago a guest of the hotel left for a short visit in the country leaving a number of valuables in his room. Later he wrote the proprietor, giving him a description of the articles and asking him to look after them. The landlord was unable to find the things described, among which was a fine silver-backed clothes brush and a new suit of clothes. He reported the case to the Police and Detective Goodman instituted investigations which led him to suspect Hughes, who had left the hotel a day or so after the guest referred to. He trailed the young man to the Detroit Laundry and placed him under arrest.

The bell-boy stoutly maintained his innocence until the detective threatened him with all kinds of dire things, when he broke down and admitted the theft of the clothing and brush.

The postage on the Fiesta Number of The Times is four (4) cents. Be sure to put on the necessary stamps, or your papers will not leave the post-office.
